Reaction in the Grain Market.

Quite a reaction took place in Breadstuffs yesterday. Under unusually light receipts, liberal shipments, and a good speculative and shipping demand, Corn advanced 8c per bushel—closing at 65c for No. 1 in store—an improvement of 12c since Monday last, when it sank as low as 53c. Wheat also shared in the buoyancy. At the opening, sales of Standard Spring were made at 54c in store—advancing to 58c before the close—an improvement of 4c since Tuesday—and 5@7½c since Monday.

Meanwhile, however, there is no visible improvement in Corn in New York or Buffalo and but a slight advance in Wheat.

No Third Ticket in Ohio.

The Mass Convention of "Conservative Voters" which met in Cincinnati on Tuesday last, after a long session and much discussion, resolved by a large majority not to nominate a State ticket. The Commercial of yesterday says:

The third party movement in this State, designed to be operative in the pending campaign, died yesterday at Smith & Nixon's Hall. It died like the pig that lived in clover, "all over." The Opposition politicians of various parts of the State, who have been alarmed by the formidable "disaffection in Hamilton county," will now, we hope, rest comfortable in their beds at night, and go cheerfully about their business by daylight.

From Washington.

[Special Dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, July 26.

More Custom House removals are to be made on the 1st of August. Experience proves what the Opposition asserted last winter, but which the friends of the Administration denied, that the force for collecting the revenue is entirely too large, and stands in the way of business.

The President stated openly and emphatically before his departure, that Ike Cook's defense was satisfactory, and that he should not be removed.

Subscriptions, professedly voluntary, but really compulsory, for the Pittsburg Post, were taken up in the Departments since Buchanan's nomination by that sheet, thus trenching on the ground of the Constitution.

The Cabinet had another conference to-day on the Mexican project. An answer will be given on the President's return, and that negatively.

Col. Selden, Marshal of the District here, is lying seriously ill.

Another Ballon Voyage.

The St. Louis Republican publishes a letter from Mr. Wise, the æronaut, in which he says:

"My intention is, if I can make the necessary arrangements, to sail from St. Louis eastward, to some city in that latitude, or north of that line, say Terre Haute, Indianapolis or Lafayette; there descend, and if necessary, replenish with a fresh supply of gas, and re-ascend to go on further eastward, and repeat again the inflation. This will show the practicability of stopping and supplying on the way. It will also show that we can occupy the daylight alone if we choose, by holding up for the night."

FOREIGN NEWS.

THE SUSPENSION OF ARMS.

HOW RECEIVED IN LOMBARDY.

The Milanese in Wrath and Despair—Melancholy Prognostications—The Italians Betrayed—The Armistice proposed by Napoleon III. and resolved upon as far back as July 2d.

[From the N. Y. Times Correspondent.]

MILAN, Friday, July 8, 1859.

The Milanese are beside themselves with rage, sorrow and astonishment. An armistice! The word is full of shame and bitterness to a Lombard! Eleven years ago the armistice of Salasco gave Milan back to Austria—what will this do? Every one is too much excited to reason or to think; the suddenness! just as the Mincio is crossed! just as the fortresses are reached! Peschiera invested! Austria disorganized and broken—why? To benefit whom? Not the honor of France; not the independence of Italy—none but Austria can profit by it, these excited youths exclaim. I pity them from my soul. You will reason calmly, see the good to be gained, the evils to be avoided—they remember the hideous past, and in the shock of the present sorrow see no hope for the future. If the news was news to me I should feel as they feel; I did not, of course, know of the actual armistice, but I knew that no more fighting would be done for some time, which comes to pretty much the same thing. One only ray of hope seems to dawn. Garibaldi, they say, will defy the terms; the French Emperor has made them; he owns it in his own insolent way; our King has no hand in this affair. Garibaldi defied the armistice of Salasco, he will defy this also.

They are mistaken. Garibaldi will await the result, and not give the Emperor the chance of saying. I should have kept my word, but you rendered it impossible. So will all wait till the first wrath is over. At the present moment they read peace for armistice. I don't believe it. I believe that Louis Napoleon chooses to show Victor Emanuel and the Italians that he is absolute master, and I believe, too, that Russia is taking fright at the revolutionary spirit shown in Hungary; that the clergy in France are doing their worst, and that before the magic square is entered the Emperor means to be rid of the importunities of Prussia. I think you will hear of a rapid concentration of at least 300,000 French troops on the Rhine. This concentration needs time, and to gain that time the armistice was proposed.

I write in haste, as I was just sealing my letter when the news was brought to my room by half a dozen youths, quite incoherent as to time, terms, or, in short, any other details. Still there can be no doubt of the truth, and now I can add one piece of certain news. As early as the 2d of July the French Emperor had made overtures to Francis Joseph. All believe here that it is Austria who sued for the armistice. I can assure you this is not true.

The Peace and Italy.

The N. Y. Times, the pet Napoleon organ in this country thus speculates about the "Peace and Italy," in its issue of Tuesday. It is evidently up hill work to make the white-wash stick:

Unless Napoleon III. has taken the Church up as boldly as Pepin and Charlemagne did of old, and put the functions of its officers and their public relations into harmony with the spirit of Italy and the world in this nineteenth century, the Italian question may be for a time suspended, but cannot be regarded as settled. How to dispose of the temporal claims of the Papacy was the really vital and trying problem of the situation into which Napoleon III. so calmly and resolutely put himself at the beginning of May, and from which he has emerged, as he told Europe and his people that he would, before the middle of July, victorious beyond all precedents of victory in his campaign of war, and enabled by his own promptness and vigor of will to outdiplomatize Europe, and to arrange, without so much as deigning to consult either England or Prussia, the bases of the peace at which both of those Powers had been idly tinkering for weeks.

The fate of Venetia, as implied in the retention of that Province by Austria, may be explained, perhaps, in consistency with the decisive declarations of Napoleon III. that Italy must be free to the Adriatic, by the supposition that the sovereignty retained by Francis Joseph has been modified by the concession of representative institutions to the Venetians; and that the fortresses of the historic Square are to be garrisoned, like the Federal fortresses of the German Confederation, by troops of the various States, and not by Austrian troops alone. If Mantua and Verona, Peschiera and Legnago, are to be occupied by mixed bodies of Tuscan, Austrian, Lombard and Roman soldiers, it will, perhaps, be fair for Napoleon to claim that he has done for all Northern Italy what he has unquestionably done for Lombardy, and expelled once for all the Austrian domination.

If this be so, Austria finds herself in the curiously anomalous position of a great Power subjected on each of the two wings of its force to the will of a federal union. As a German prince, the Austrian Emperor was already obliged to conciliate States like Wurtemburg and Baden. As an Italian Prince, he will now be driven to play a secondary part to Tuscany and Naples, to Sardinia and to Rome. Much therefore as the Venetians may object in point of sentiment to their enforced endurance of the Hapsburgs, it is not improbable that they may really have been clothed by the Treaty of Villa-Franca with virtual independence. Their future in that case will depend on themselves and their sister States of Italy.

But the Papal Presidency is the crucial difficulty of the situation. The idea of conferring upon the Pope a sort of primacy in liberated Italy is not of itself absolutely new. It was the dream of Pio IX. himself in those first Arcadian days of his reign, when he came from Sinigaglia to fill the chair of St. Peter, possessed with the love of Italy and with faith in his fellow-men. It was even urged upon England, by the envoys of the Roman Government in 1849, to make her influence felt in furthering such a scheme; and Lord Palmerston gave his assent to the plan in general terms. But if this project is in any way intended to strengthen the power of that reactionary clerical party which has reigned supreme in Rome for ten years past, and has governed in the faith that the world was weary of "modernized systems," then the day of the "settlement" of Italy in blood and flame is merely adjourned; and Napoleon III., while he carries back from his unparalleled campaign the double fame and double force of military genius and civil moderation, will leave behind him a greater work than he has attempted, to be done by others coming after him, and brighter glory than any he has won, to be the guerdon of that work.

Turin Taken by Surprise—How Interpreted by the Belgian Press—Official Statement of the Moniteur.

THE NEWS AT TURIN.

A Turin letter, of July 8, expresses great surprise, not unmingled with apprehension, at the sudden suspension of arms, which it describes as a coup de theatre. The Sardinian Government had not the least idea that any such arrangement was in contemplation. The correspondent, however, feels satisfaction in stating that England, which under Lord Derby's Government was not very favorably disposed towards Piedmont, has lately shown a much better feeling. He observes very truly that when the question of the reconstruction of Italy comes to be settled, England must necessarily desire to see Piedmont as strong and independent as possible; "by supporting us in a Congress, England would regain in Italy some of the influence which she has lately lost."

THE MOTIVES OF NAPOLEON III.

The following extract from a correspondence in the Independence Belge is interesting.

In high official spheres a pacific solution is very generally believed in, if the Emperor of Austria will, in a spirit of conciliation, second Napoleon III, in his endeavors to reconcile the phrase in his manifesto, "free to the Adriatic," with the position yet maintained by the Austrian army in the Lombardo-Venetian territory, and with the treaty rights of the house of Hapsburg in that part of Italy. People belonging to the entourage of the Emperor and Empress, say in private conversation that Napoleon III desires to give to Europe a new proof of his moderation. They add that the Emperor, amidst all the excitement of the great task which he has undertaken, deeply feels the cruel losses which are involved in war carried on with all the appliances of modern science, and that after Magenta and Solferino the sight of so many brave men laid low for his cause, produced a great effect upon that concentrated mind which is so calm on the surface, and apparently so cold. They have reason to believe that the relations of the Emperor with his ally have not always been unmingled with disappointment, and that he is annoyed by the attitude of certain groups of parties in Italy. Judging from the solicitude which the Emperor has always displayed for the head of the church, they infer that he must regret the complications of the present situation of Rome. Under the influence of these various impressions, and considering that after his rapid and brilliant success, the result of the struggle, if it were to be prolonged, could only be a question of time, and the sacrifice of a certain number of lives, the Emperor thinks he may now propose a truce, with the object of seeing whether the Italian question may not be more humanely solved by discussion than by the sword. The Patrie was mistaken when it affirmed that the Emperor of Austria proposed the suspension of hostilities. The initiative was taken by Napoleon III., who sent the first overtures by Gen. d'Urban's son, after a conversation which he had with this young officer on the subject of an exchange of prisoners.

Comments on the Armistice.

[From the London Times, 11th.]

There are reasons lying upon the surface why the Emperor of the French should desire to close the first chapter of his military career. The campaign is complete and unchecked in its success. The Austrians had invaded the territory of his ally. Louis Napoleon has chased them out, and has retaliated their invasion. The Germans had declared throughout all their non-official organs that they would come to Austria's assistance immediately the French crossed the Mincio. Louis Napoleon struck a great blow, and then passed the Mincio in complete tranquility. He has done all that he desired. He has shown Austria that she is at his mercy, and Prussia that he is very far from fearing her. Much more than this; he has sent Austrian standards to Paris, and has gained victories at the head of a French army.

In all his previous history he never could be quite sure of the soldiery, for he had not shown himself a soldier; now he is safe in this respect. What more natural than that the Emperor should desire to go back to Paris, and wear his laurels while they are yet green? Surely this is better than risking a reverse in that ill-famed Quadrilateral! A thousand things might happen. The pestilent marshes of the Mincio are rife in Autumn fevers, and one of these might prove more fatal than a battle. Why should he wait to break his teeth against those solid stone walls? He has ridden his fox to earth after a splendid run, almost without a check; it is scarcely worth his while to stay and dig him out. So thinks the Emperor. He leaves that trusty old earth-stopper, Marshal Vaillant, on the watch, and, with a whoop to his hounds, he turns his horse's head, and is off home to Paris.

To Francis Joseph it must have come like water to a wounded soldier. It came at a moment when he had no longer any confidence in his army, and when his army had no longer any confidence in him. He could not sue for peace and hold his throne; but a truce is a different thing. Truces are merely military arrangements, which are sometimes followed by a renewal of war, as they were in 1813 and 1849, when they served as a point to mark the change from Austrian defeats to Austrian victories. A truce was salvation to Francis Joseph. He accepted it with a coyness that ill masked his delight, and with an attention to appearances which Napoleon, with future objects in his head, might not be sorry to humor.

Use of Balloons in War.

The London Times correspondent at the head-quarters of the Allies, writes under date of July 6th:

As the French have established a regular corps of balloonists, which is under the intelligent direction of the famous æronaut Goddard, the fortress of Peschiera and Verona are closely watched, so that we are able to know what is going on within their limits.

Day before yesterday, the balloon of M. Goddard could be seen over Peschiera, much to the amusement of our gay soldiers. At six o'clock the aerial reconnoisance was over, and the balloon having safely descended in the vicinity of Castel Nuovo, Goddard and two officers of the French staff, who were his companions, hastened to report that about seventy oxen had been collected by the Austrians at the Dogana of Peschiera.

A party of Zouaves was soon despatched in that direction, and a few hours after the captured herd made its appearance in our camp. The oxen were not kept, as the owners went to the Emperor and told him the animals had been stolen the night before by a party of Hussars. His Majesty soon ordered them to be restored to the proprietors.

New York Bank Statement.

[From the N. Y. Tribune 26th.]

The Bank returns, which we annex in detail, show a further moderate contraction in loans, and quite a large decrease in the specie line, which was probably made up on a declining average. The decrease in loans hardly keeps pace with the diminution of specie and the reduction in net deposits; and in this point of view, the statement seems less conservative and satisfactory than for several weeks past. The specie shipments of Saturday were not included in the returns, but this loss will perhaps be partly neutralized by the California gold now on the way and nearly due.

The following is a comparative statement of the condition of the New York City Banks for the weeks ending July 16 and July 23:

	July 16.	July 23.
Loans	$120,406,628	$119,934,160	Dec....$471,468
Specie	23,223,679	21,196,912	Dec ...1,026,767
Circulation	8,201,675	8,170,628	Dec.... 31,047
Net Deposits	78,135,911	75,301,943	Dec ...2,833,669

An Old Man Killed by His Son-in-Law.

[Special Dispatch to the Missouri Democrat.]

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., July 25.—From proof sheets of the Journal we learn that, on Saturday evening last, an old man nam named Aaron Fox, living about four miles from here, was shot dead by his son-in-law, Sydney Branch.

The murderer was arrested and lodged in jail. An examination will be held to-morrow.

The cause assigned for the murder by Branch is that his father-in-law, Fox, threatened to kill him.

There is considerable excitement here in consequence of the brutal crime.

$50,000 that did not Arrive.

ST. LOUIS, July 26.

The Democrat has a special dispatch from Leavenworth, announcing the arrival of an express from Denver City with dates to the 18th. The $50,000 which we reported as coming by express did not arrive, but in place thereof the dispatch significantly states that it brought little or no gold, and that everything was quiet at the mines.

What Nations Fight the Hardest?

Assuming the French and Austrian bulletins to be true—and they are the only data we have to go upon—the total loss in killed and wounded on both sides at Solferino, a fight which lasted fourteen hours, was 29,375, or seven per cent. of the whole number engaged. On comparing this with the list of killed and wounded in other decisive battles in this country and in Mexico, we are constrained to conclude that our own troops, the English, and even the Mexicans, whom it has been the habit to depreciate, are much harder fighters than the French and Austrians. Let us repeat the figures in a tabular form:

NATION.	BATTLE.	PER CENT OF KILLED AND WOUNDED.
Americans and English	Bunker Hill	43
Do Do	Chippewa	21
Americans	Buena Vista	17
Mexicans	Do	17
Americans	Molino del Rey	23
Mexicans	Do	63
Americans	Valley of Mexico	[illegible]
French, Sardinians and Austrians	Solferino	7

These figures show that if the armies in Italy had fought as desperately at Solferino as our soldiers, the English, and the Mexicans did in the above engagements, their loss should have been four or five times as great as reported. Did they fight as well? Or are the bulletins false?—N. Y. Herald.

THE CITY.

☞ The repairs on the North Market are approaching completion, rendering that structure about the same as before its disaster.

☞ A gold watch Arnold, Adams & Co.'s London make, awaits an owner at the City Marshal's office.

☞ North's National Theatre is to be reopened in a few weeks with a dramatic corps under Sherlock, of Detroit.

☞ Some privateersman boarded the schr. Ashtabula, lying in the North Branch on Tuesday, and made a booty of $40, found in a sailor's bag of clothing.

☞ Large sale at auction of new and second hand furniture, carpets and household goods, this morning, at 9½ o'clock, by Gilbert & Sampson, auctioneers, 82 Lake street.

☞ A partial, and very minute, eclipse of the sun is announced for Friday afternoon about five o'clock. N. B. All parties are forbid trusting Mr. Capen on this account, as it is no part of his reckoning.

☞ Charles Wheeler, the engineer of the colliding train on the Chicago, Pittsburg and Fort Wayne Railroad, has been arrested and is now in jail at Lima Station, Ohio, where the late fatal accident occurred, as noticed in yesterday's paper.

☞ Our St. Louis exchanges announce the painful suicide in that city of a Mrs. Wood, wife of a daguerreian artist who formerly had a gallery on Dearborn street, in this city. The tragic act ends a life of dissipation, and domestic difficulties the result of the same.

☞ A domestic at the Sollitt House, named Ann Roach, was yesterday brought before the Police Court on a charge of larceny preferred against her by D. B. Blakely, her employee. Ann confessed to stealing spoons to the value of $4. She was held to bail in $100.

☞ A young German girl named Elizabeth Deal, seven years of age has been missing since the Crystal Lake excursion on Tuesday. Any one knowing of her whereabouts will confer a favor on her friends by informing them, or in taking her to her parents on May street, near Polk in the West Division.

☞ A little miss had a narrow escape from serious injury at Metropolitan Hall on Tuesday evening on the occasion of a School Exhibition, by her light gauze dress taking fire from the foot-lights. The flames were fortunately extinguished without much difficulty, and little Miss Ghent went on with her part after a few minutes delay.

☞ A den of most disreputable characters on West Randolph street, was invadek by the police on Tuesday night, and nineteen shaky specimens of humanity, five of them females, taken into custody. The she proprietor of the premises named Roxana Reese, was fined $100 in yesterday's Police Court, and the others in various sums ranging from $3 to $10.

PERSONAL.—The following are among the guests of the "Richmond House": J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne R. R.; T Haskins Du Puy, Vice-President; C. M. Russell, J. K. Edgerton, Gen. Robinson, G. W. Cass, A. L. Wheeler, Samuel Hannah, J. L. Williams, G. W. Bailey, J. Larwell, Directors; Augustus Bradley, Secretary; S. McSweeney, Attorney of Road; T. W. McCullough, President of the Pittsburg and Cleveland R. R.; T. F. Clark, Director.

☞ There is a lively state of things in police matters as far as the dealers in the beverages dispensed at the bars about town are concerned. The police are sharply on the track and will haul up every vender who has no license, or having one does not comply with the law and keep it conspicuously in sight at all times. On one or the other of these grounds during the twenty-four hours ending yesterday morning there were nearly a dozen arrests and fines to the amount of about $300. Better comply with the ordinance.

☞ As a token of the improvements in progress in our city the present season, it deserves to be stated that Messrs. Singer & Talcott have shipped from their quarries at Athens to Chicago, to be put down here, three miles in length of their admirable flag-stone for sidewalks, probably the best material for this purpose known in the United States. It is familiar to most of our citizens, and admired by all our visitars, as used in some of the more recent sidewalk improvements, a single stone extending the entire width of the walk, and being from thirty to forty inches or more in width. They may safely challenge any other article for like use in the country, and three miles of such sidewalk in a single season is worth noting and worth having.

PROGRESS OF THE NORTHWESTERN RAILROAD.—The Watertown Democrat of the 21st says:—"Two large and efficient parties of men are now organized and actively engaged in laying track on the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad; one starting from this city, and rapidly advancing towards the La Crosse Junction, and the other as rapidly coming from the Junction towards this city. For the first time, the iron horse passed through and beyond the northern limits of this city yesterday, and it is interesting to witness the speed with which the rails are being put down, how fast a way is being prepared for the flying locomotive. The days are few and numbered, when this seventeen mile link shall be supplied, which is to make perfect our railroad connection with the north. The grading on the southern section is progressing with equal and unabated vigor."

MELANCHOLY CASUALTY—A CHILD RUN OVER BY A STATE STREET CAR.—About eight o'clock yesterday morning a heart-rending casualty occurred on State street, near Van Buren, where a little son of N. Chapin was run over by a car moving south on the horse railroad, suffering serious, if they do not prove fatal injuries. From what we can learn, the car was proceeding at usual speed. The boy and his mother were on the street, and returning home to their residence, No. 40 Van Buren street. In crossing State street, the little fellow left his mother, and ran hastily forward to cross before the passing team. It was moving faster than he thought, as it would seem, as he became startled and confused, ran to clear it, and did so, but did not see the car approaching from an opposite direction, nor did the driver of the car observe his sudden movement until too late to stop the car, the wheels of which passed over the poor lad, both of them diagonally across across his legs, crushing one near the ancle, the other just below the hip, inflicting a most severe flesh wound on the latter. Drs. Hahn and McVicker were summoned to the child, who was taken to his father's residence, but it was feared that the injuries would prove fatal.

THE CRYSTAL LAKE PIC NIC.—The Pic-Nic of St. John's Church to Crystal Lake on Tuesday, was altogether a grand affair. Seventeen cars were densely packed with little folks and children of an older growth, from the city. They were met at the Lake and cordially welcomed by a large party from Woodstock and vicinity. The party from Chicago were eloquently addressed by C. M. Willard, Esq., of Woodstock. The Woodstock party were in turn addressed in a few pertinent remarks by the Rev. Fitch, of Piqua, Ohio, who was a guest of St. John's, Chicago. Afterwards the whole party of not less than two thousand people were heartily welcomed by Rev. A. N. Bishop, Rector both of St. John's Church, Chicago, and St. Johns Church, Woodstock, and the blessing of heaven was also implored by the same gentleman. Nothing occurred to in any way mar the happiness of the great company. The Committee of Arrangements had so perfected every particular that nothing seemed to be wanting to promote the happiness of all present. The great Western Band discoursed delicious music—the vocal part was by the Choir and Sunday School of St. John's Church, was most spirited, and did great credit to all concerned.

The thanks of the whole party were due to Messrs. Joy & Frisbie for their generosity in supplying gratuitously the whole party with all the ice they wanted, and also to several other parties who contributed much to the enjoyment of the day.

SHOCKING DOMESTIC TRAGEDY

A HUSBAND CUTS HIS WIFE'S THROAT.

Circumstances of the Crime—Appearance of the Prisoner.

About eight o'clock last evening a most painful excitement was caused in that vicinity of the South Division, by the rumor that a Dr. Frank Royal, residing at 197 Adams street had, while walking with his wife on Quincy street, suddenly, in a fit of rage, cut her throat, inflicting a ghastly wound, immediately fleeing to escape arrest.

From what we could learn last evening it would appear that the parties, living in a small cottage on Adams street on the corner of the alley running from Monroe to Adams, had left home about the hour named for a walk, nothing unusual was noticed in the demeanor of either. They had proceeded but two blocks and when on Quincy street near Wells those in that vicinity were startled by a cry of "Murder" proceeding from the woman, the man at the same time leaving her and making off northward across the vacant lot.

Mrs. Royal, holding her hands to her throat the blood streaming from between her fingers, ran home to their residence on Adams street, exclaiming to several persons she met on the way "My husband has cut my throat." She entered the house without assistance, about which a large crowd gathered, and the most extraordinary rumors were afloat, and much excitement prevailed.

Dr. Jerome, was immediately summoned from his drug store on the corner of South Clark and Adams street. He found that a long deep gash had been cut in the side of the woman's throat, presenting a ghastly appearance, though severing none of the more important blood vessels.

The proximity of the scene to the Armory police station made numbers of the police among the first on the ground, and the detectives were immediately on the track of the fugitive husband. About an hour and a half after the committal of the deed of attempted wife-murder, Dr. Royal was taken into custody by officer West, at No. 111 Jackson street, the residence of his daughter, a Mrs. Armstrong, wife of a well known circus performer.

When arrested by the officers Dr. Royal protested his entire ignorance of aught pertaining to the tragedy, which he said he had heard of, but knew nothing of its cause. He was taken to the lockup about ten o'clock last evening and lodged in one of the cells.

Our reporter saw and conversed with him a little time after his arrest, and to him Dr. R. reiterated his entire ignorance of the whole affair in its inception; said he had been down town and taken an ice-cream at "Wright's," near the Court House, and when returning, his daughter Rosa (Mrs. Armstrong) met him, telling him that some one had cut her mother's throat, and urging him "not to go home," upon which he had gone with his daughter to Jackson street, where the officers found him. He again and again avowed his ignorance of the perpetration of the deed, and that he loved his wife as fondly as ever any husband could.

Dr. Royal is a man a little past middle life, apparently an Englishman, has been, we learn an army surgeon, and has been for some years a resident of this city, where he has mostly lived in the North Division. He seems intelligent, and his appearance last evening, at our interview at least, gave no traces of the intoxication under the influence of which it is surmised the shocking crime was attempted.

We visited the residence, No. 197 Adams street, about eleven o'clock last evening and found the unfortunate woman in charge of Dr. C. N. Fitch from whom we learn that the wound is not likely to prove fatal though it laid bare several of the arteries. The domestic relations of the family have not been of the best character, and frequent quarrels have been the result.

We learn that on Sunday night last a quarrel more violent than usual took place, and that Dr. Royal whipped his wife, attracting the attention and remark of the neighbors. The wife after her return home last evening refused to say anything more to criminate her husband, refused to answer any interrogatories by officer Pinkerton also how or by whom the deed was done. After her first exclamation that her husband had cut her throat, she seemed to desire to recal it, stating to a policeman that she saw the shadow of a man who stole up behind her, and immediately cut her with a knife, and on her exclaiming turned and ran.

This singular affair caused a most profound sensation in that vicinity last evening. It will doubtless be thoroughly examined to-day.

AN ACTIVE STATE OF AFFAIRS AT THE CHICAGO JAIL.—THE BURGLAR THOMAS "AXES" HIS WAY OUT.—THE SUNNY SIDE OF JAIL LIFE.—We have for some time past cherished very lively sentiments of admiration for the Chicago jail and the generous, even millenial system of confidence with which for months past that institution has been carried on. A happier family than jailor Hastings and his boarders there has not been in this city. There are boys' boarding schools in our State that know a discipline and vigilance far more strict. The keys of those cells and corridors have been held by the softest possible fingers, yea "butter-fingers."

Our former strictures on the jail were not well received, but we had the consciousness of knowing that abuses which had been too open were corrected and had disappeared, but have for some time past been aware that an evil certainly objectionable, though humane enough, if unwise, still clung to the management of that institution. Our officers have spoken of it, officers from abroad have frequently referred to it, and the circumstance has been most obvious to the most casual visitor, the careless, even reckless, manner in which the important trusts of the jail were held. It is unusual we believe in any jail, the average number of whose inmates equals the usual complement of our own, that the same state of things has prevailed. Ordinarily with prisoners charged with the highest crimes known to human law with those held in duress exposed to the higher legal penalties, in whom the usual desire for liberty is enforced by divers cogent personal considerations, it has been deemed the wiser course to exercise a constant vigilance and firm though not severe jail regulations.

As a consequence of gross neglect of the duty of jail officers, on more than one occasion remonstrances have reached Sheriff Gray from Supervisors of the county, urging him to attend to this matter, and induce through his assistants a different state of affairs at the jail, less laxity of government and more restraint upon the prisoners. More than to any especial traits of vigilance on the part of Jailor Hastings, or Turnkey Sauter may be attributed the circumstance that no general jail delivery has yet occurred. One was indeed contemplated, concocted, and in readiness, under the very eyes of both not long since, and only failed by the exposure volunteered by one of the prisoners privy to the scheme.

Last evening, however, just before dusk, one of the prisoners, William Thomas, committed a few days since for a burglary committed in the West Division, at the house of a Mr. Campbell, and altogether a dangerous character, having before his eyes the wholesome fear of the forthcoming session of the Recorder's Court, took an axe, descended from the corridor, through the stairway to the cellar under the jail, knocked aside one of the area gratings, and took a change of venue with a coolness on his part which showed his ready appreciation of the points to which we have referred. We have no ill-will towards any of the officers of the jail, but we believe them to have been almost culpably negligent in the discharge of their duties, and if the loss of one prisoner will call them to a sense of the same, it is cheaply bought.

Thomas has got safely off, with an hour or two the start of the discovery of his escapade, which he will make good use of.

☞ A small building burned up and burned out on Edina Place, on Tuesday noon, without the cognisance of the Court House bell-ringer. Lively chap, that!

☞ An invitation extended to the Board of Trade by Dr. Blaney, President of the Rose Hill Cemetery, for that body to attend the dedication services of that cemetery this morning, was accepted.

The Dedication at Rose Hill Cemetery To-Day.

We presume that few of our city readers require further notice of that which, the event of to-day, will find prominent place in the annals of Chicago.

To-day is to witness the dedication of our beautiful suburban Cemetery at Rose Hill, and the programme for the day, the free and frequent excursion trains to that charming locality, the attractions of its natural surface, the promise given of proposed and progressing improvements worthy of its destined purpose, the interesting and imposing nature of the ceremonies and exercises of the day, all constitute the occasion one of the most interesting that has ever transpired here.

The Masonic fraternity will be out in large numbers, our citizens of all ages and classes will by thousands join in the excursion and procession, which will move from the Tremont House. The Light Guard Band will head the procession to the Milwaukee depot.

On arrival at the grounds, which are six and a half miles from the city, and directly on the C. & M. R. R., there will be laying of the corner stone of the Chapel by the order of Freemasons, and introductory remarks by Dr. Blaney, after which there will be a prayer by Rev. Mr. Patterson. A hymn, composed for the occasion by Rev. S. F. Smith, of Boston, will be read by Rev. R. S. Foster, D. D., and sung by the choir.

Rev. Dr. Rice will read portions of the scriptures, and an address by the Rev. Mr. Schenck will be delivered. Rev. Dr. Burroughs will make the Dedicatory Prayer, and Rev. Mr. Anderson the benediction. Four trains, at 9:15, 10:15, A. M., 2:15 and 3:00 P. M., will leave the depot here, and carry passengers free of charge.

A sale of cemetery lots will take place on the grounds, at 3 o'clock, P. M., by Lee & Co., Auctioneers.

We need scarcely advise our readers to improve the opportunity for a day in the country, made impressive and interesting by the exercises of to-day. Should the weather be equal to its present promise, probably not among the least interesting features of the occasion will be the thousands of citizens in attendance.

A glance at the announcement of the Committee in another column will advise all that no general provision will be made for the feeding of the multitude, who must pic-nic, each party in their own way, and this will not detract from the general success of the affair if the beautiful precincts of Rose Hill swarm to-day with little parties, each centered about their own baskets and hampers.

Altogether, the promise of the day is one of uncommon interest. It opens an area of importance to our city, an enterprise long desired, and begun none none too early. In the hands of its present spirited proprietors Rose Hill will be a credit and an object of pride to our city.

DEATH OF T. W. ALEXANDER, ESQ.—ACTION OF THE BOARD OF TRADE.—Our business community and citizens were saddened yesterday by the intelligence of the decease of Thomas W. Alexander, of T. W. Alexander & Co., who died at his residence on Jefferson street, in the West Division, yesterday morning. Though for some time past deceased has been in less than his usual health, the news of his demise comes suddenly upon his numerous circle of friends here. The decease of Mr. A. was announced on 'Change yesterday, and the action of the Board of Trade, of which body the deceased has been for years past a prominent member, is appended.

Mr. Alexander was a native of Philadelphia, where he was born in 1819. He first made his home in the West at St. Louis, removing to this city in 1852. His business character, enterprise, integrity and personal popularity cause his loss to be deeply and widely felt in our community at large, and to deepen the active sympathy felt for the mourning household to whom the bereavement comes as a crushing blow, fraught with an anguish the widow and orphans can alone know, and to which a higher than earthly hand can alone minister consolation.

The Committee of the Board of Trade appointed yesterday to draft resolutions expressive of condolence reported through J. W. Munn, Esq., as follows:

Whereas, The Board having learned with sincere regret the death of our esteemed fellow membea, T. W. Alexander, Esq., and in commemoration of our high esteem and friendly feelings,

Resolved, That as an active and efficient member, and for his high and honorable dealings as well as his social qualities, we sincerely deplore his loss, and his death will long be felt and truly regretted by the members of this Boerd.

Resolved, That we hereby tender his family our warmest sympathies, and although we cannot mourn as the widow or the children of our late Brother must mourn, we would mourn with them as friends and brothers.

Resolved, That the members of this Board be requested to attend the funeral of the deceased.

Chicago, July 27, 1859.

The funeral of deceased will take place from his residence, No. 109 Jefferson street this Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock after which the remains will be taken East for interment.

For the Press and Tribune:

SUNDAY LAWS IN ENGLAND.—A few years ago an attempt was made in London to enforce the observation of a Puritanical Sunday, to prevent the running of excursion trains on that day, and to stop bands of music from playing in the Parks of the Metropolis on Sunday. The Government called out the military to aid the police to suppress these Sunday amusements; but such was the opposition of the masses of the people that the Government succumbed, and the people have ever since had Sunday music in the Parks, and excursion trains to the suburbs and country. I cut the following advertisements from a late number of the London Times, showing the Sunday travel in England, viz:

Cheap Sunday Excursions, by the Southeastern Railway, to Ramsgate, Margate, etc., etc., at 8:45 A. M.

Southwestern Railway—Sunday Excursion Trains run every Sunday, from Waterloo Bridge to Vaux Hall Stations, at 7:45 A. M.

Epsom and Leatherhead, and by Omnibus to Box Hill and Docking. Trains run daily.

Brighton—Express Trains leave London Bridge at 2 P. M.

Great Western Railway—Cheap Excursion to Strand, Gloucester and Cheltenham, on Sunday, July 3; from Padding on at 7:45 A. M.

Margate and Back—Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. Leaves London Bridge Wharf. Returns at 8½ o'clock.

I observe in English papers that the Queen and Royal Family frequently visit Hyde Park on Sunday to enjoy the sights and hear the bands play. S.

CHICAGO, PITTSBURG AND FORT WAYNE R. R. —MEETING OF DIRECTORS.—The regular quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago R. R. Co., convened yesterday morning at the Railroad House in this city. Present:

From Illinois—Dr. John Evans.

Absent: Wm. B. Ogden, of Chicago, and R. H. Winslow, of New York.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—About 8 o'clock last evening, Capt. John Harvey was drowned in the river at the foot of Canal street, from falling overboard from his canal-boat, the Amazon, lying at that dock. It is supposed he missed his footing. The remains were recovered after having been in the water half an hour, but life was extinct, though every means for resuscitation were employed by Dr. Max Myers and others. The family of deceased, a wife and two children, lived on board the Amazon. The Coroner was to hold an inquest last evening.

COUNTERFEITERS FROM CHICAGO IN TROUBLE.—The Quincy Republican of Tuesday says that on Saturday evening, at half-past 11 o'clock, four men were arrested at Epple's Hall, in that city, charged with passing counterfeit money. They had arrived the same evening by the cars from Chicago. The Quincy police, on the qui vive for such scamps, did not give them much time to operate in. Their trial was postponed to Wednesday and Thursday.

☞ The burglars are about. A family on Buffalo street were visited on Tuesday night, by means of a front door-key turned with a pair of nips, but some of the household being roused by the noise the rascal decamped.

☞ The little son of L. J. Pollock is still missing. Attention is called to an advertisement in another column.

AFTER US THE DELUGE.

No better evidence is needed—none better is afforded by American history—of the confirmed insanity of the South, than the efforts now on foot for the revival of the African Slave Trade, for if that traffic were thrown open to all persons disposed to embark in it to-morrow, we firmly believe that ten years would not pass by without realizing John Randolph's prediction that if the slaves did not run away from the masters, the masters would run away from the slaves. The census of 1850 disclosed the fact that more than one-third of the population of the Southern States were negroes, and that in spite of ill-usage they were increasing much faster than their white neighbors. The exact figures were as follows: whites, 6,184,477; slaves, 3,200,364; free colored, 228,138; total colored, 3,428,502. The same authority declared that the number of slave-owners and slave-hirers was only 347,525. It was also shown that the slave population exceeded the whites in South Carolina by 110,417, in Mississippi by 14,061, and that in Florida, Alabama and Louisiana the numerical difference between the two classes was only a fraction. The alarming increase of the blacks as compared with the whites in the cotton and rice growing States may be seen at a glance in the following table:

	1830. Whites.	1830. Bl'ks.	1840. Whites.	1840. Bl'ks.	1850. Whites.	1850. Bl'ks.
So. Carolina	255,784	316,401	267,360	327,038	274,567	384,984
Georgia	299,292	217,531	410,448	280,944	521,572	381,682
Florida	19,229	15,501	28,760	27,717	47,211	39,310
Alabama	191,978	117,549	337,224	253,532	426,486	342,844
Mississippi	70,443	65,659	180,440	196,211	295,718	309,878
Louisiana	106,[illegible]	109,588	158,389	168,452	255,491	244,809

INCREASE IN TWENTY YEARS.

	Whites.	Blacks.
South Carolina	8,783	69,583
Georgia	222,280	164,151
Florida	27,982	23,809
Alabama	234,508	225,295
Mississippi	224,756	244,219
Louisiana	149,240	135,221

It will be seen that in all these States, except Florida and Louisiana, the ratio of increase of the black population has been considerably greater than that of the white. In Florida the two classes have increased in about the same proportion. In Louisiana though the blacks gained on the whites during the ten years between 1840 and 1850, the latter had gained a trifle on the former during the twenty years—a fact which may be referred to the infusion of Northern capital and Northern ideas in the city of New Orleans during that period. But the rules which operated up to 1850 in keeping up the comparative increase of the white population have since been reversed. The policy of Southern statesmen and journals during the ten years that have intervened has been such as to discourage white immigation and to accelerate in a remarkable degree the incursion of negroes from the border slave States—Virginia, Kentucky and Missouri—to the plantations of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas. The breeding of slaves has become a science; and it would be difficult to devise a system of society better calculated to drive away and keep away white men, than that which prevails to-day throughout the whole southern seaboard from the Potomac to the Rio Grande.

Yet with the fact before them, that the black population are outgrowing them, and must sooner or later be numerous enough to overpower them and take possession of the soil, the South is clamoring for more negroes, and if the consent of the North could be obtained they would have a fleet of clippers plying between the Bight of Benin and half a dozen Southern ports before the next Presidential election. They cannot wait for the vengeance of Heaven upon their iniquity, working through the agency of an enormous slave population rendered yearly more powerful in numbers and more dangerous in intelligence, but they must needs hasten the inevitable doom by emptying the west coast of Africa upon the shores of the United States, and mingling with their present slave population, none too peaceable nor too little inclined to listen to suggestions of insurrection, the savage blood of Congo and Ashantee. Surely such infatuation can proceed only from the idea that the system will outlast its present managers, and that the deluge will not come till they are out of its reach.

RESULTS OF THE WAR.

The end of the war in Europe is attended with unexpected additions to the Papal Power. The scantiness of the information concerning the treaty at Villa Franca does not allow us to say what new dominion is conferred upon the Pope; but we have already enough to warrant the belief that above all others—he, the boasted representative of the Prince of Peace,—has derived the most solid advantages from the recent destruction of an hundred thousand men. To him alone the promises of Napoleon are made good. His government, so far from being secularized by modern ideas enforced by the allied arms, takes new and more alarming proportions in the eyes of the world; and what before was contemptible, assumes at once the guidance and control of twenty-three millions of men. The Church throughout Europe, relieved of the fear of the progress of revolutionary ideas and liberal governments, to-day is warranted in assuming an attitude more defiant and despotic than ever before. This is a conclusion to which the world had not looked; but it ought not, we now see, to have been unexpected. Napoleon had his choice to embrace Liberalism, which, while toppling over the throne of Austria and regenerating Italy, would have called his own right to rule in question; or to strike hands with the Despotism, which favoring legitimacy and "order" in Austria, and opposing all healthful change in Italy, would make him the acknowledged favorite of the Catholic Power. Without, as is now evident, a scruple of conscience, he has leagued his fortunes with the latter; and the result is that the hopes of all good government on the Continent must be indefinitely postponed. By his success won on the field, he has secured the obedience of the army; by his new concessions to Rome he has brought the entire Catholic Hierarchy to his support, and by the establishment of the entente cordiale with Austria—co-guarantor of the new form of despotism that Italy is about to receive—he has secured immunity from attack. What can Liberalism now do to undo what he has done?

We shall see in the altered tone of the Catholic press evidence of the new turn that affairs have taken. The journals in the interest of Rome have, except in France, made him the subject of unrelenting attack. While all the Liberal world have tried to believe in his false promises and unasked pledges, the organs of the Church were busily raising doubts. They knew their man. But the proof that he is that which they endeavored to show him, will not lessen the warmth with which they will embrace him now that he has proved himself obedient to the wishes of power that they obey. He will become, in their columns, "the rival of Francis Joseph in the affections of the Church; and in the management of the affairs of that politico-ecclesiastical body, for the suppression of just government and enlightened forms of faith, his rival indeed. Within half a year he will be transformed from an "infidel" and a "disturber of social order," into one of the brightest of saints in the Popish calendar.

Who does not see in all this a serious blow to the progress of liberal ideas, and perhaps imminent danger to the constitutional and Protestant powers that are still suffered to exist. Between the crushing despotism of France and Austria, and the ecclesiastical tyranny of the Pope, what is left for the patriotic Frenchman, German or Italian to hope? With the armed force of the Continent in their hands, backed up by the spiritual power that Rome wields, the rulers, no matter how in possession of their power or how abusing their trusts, have nothing to fear. The work of tyranny may go on unchecked. Liberty of speech and of the press, of person, and, if possible, of thought, in the imperial dominions, whether of France or Austria, may be trampled down. The policy of Rome in repressing education and intelligence, and in blocking the material improvements of the age, may be carried out; and there will be none to resist. And these possibilities are the only visible fruits of the war that has just closed. Beyond the slaughter of a few tens of thousands of men, the expenditure of a few hundreds of millions of treasure, and the strengthening of the hands of the twin despotisms under which the Continent groans, nothing has been done.

GOOD NEWS FROM MEXICO.

There is hope for Mexico. The Juarez or Liberal Government, with great courage and with an unsparing hand has seized upon the cause of the unceasing discord in that unhappy land, and will, if it has the power, destroy its influence for evil. The Catholic Church is that fruitful cause; and in dealing with it Juarez strikes at the root of the wars, revolutions, insurrections and anarchies into which his country has, for the last quarter of a century, been plunged. The New York papers of Monday bring us the Decree which he has promulgated. It is thorough and comprehensive; and if its authority is once firmly established and acknowledged, we may hope that the troubles of Mexico are concluded, and that she will enter upon a new and healthful national career. With extraordinary advantages in the way of climate, soil and position, she has, from the influence of that Hierarchy which is never more deadly in its influences than when linked to Republicanism, rapidly deteriorated in all the elements of greatness, until her final dismemberment and death is seriously threatened. But the bold surgery of Juarez will afford a cure for the evils that she has endured, if there be in the body politic enough vitality and patriotism to put his necessary measures into execution.

The Decree to which we refer, after setting forth that the principal motive of the actual war, prompted and sustained by the clergy, is to complete the emancipation of that body from the control of the civil authority:

> That when the civil authority has sought, by favoring the clergy, to enhance its income, the clergy, in order to disclaim the sovereign authority, has resisted even its own benefit:
>
> That when the sovereign power, by lending force to the mandates of the clergy themselves in respect to parochial dues, has sought to remove the popular odium which curtailed the proper emoluments of the Church, the clergy appeared to prefer the loss of all rather than submit to any law:
>
> That as the determination upon this point expressed by the Metropolitan proves that the clergy can support itself in Mexico, as it does elsewhere, without the civil law regulating its pacts and agreements with the devout:
>
> That, if at previous times there was room for any one to doubt that the clergy has been a stedfast obstacle in the way of the establishment of public peace, to-day all men recognize that it is in a state of overt rebellion against the sovereign authority.
> That in misapplying the legacies and gifts which the pious have entrusted to them for sacred objects, the clergy turns them to the public destruction, by sustaining and rendering daily more sanguinary the fratricidal quarrel which it set afoot in disowning the legitimate authority, and denying that the republic could constitute itself into any form the majority selected.
> That means of every sort having thus far been ineffectual to put an end to a war which must ruin the State, to leave longer in the hands of its sworn enemies, the means they have so grossly abused, would amount to abetting their guilt,

Ordains, that all the property of the Church is vested in the State; that the connection between Church and State is dissolved; that all the religious orders shall be suppressed; that new convents, monastaries, &c., are forbidden; that all sales of Church property without the express assent of the Government shall be held illegal; that the support of the clergy shall be voluntary; that all religions shall be tolerated, and that all forms of worship will be guaranteed. Juarez had done that which the highest interests of his country demanded—that which he could not have left undone without the certain recurrence of that despotism of the priesthood that has made Mexico what she is. We shall see how the people, who have long endured the evils of a wretched misgovernment and the domination of an army of fat, lazy and vicious ecclesiastics, will receive this new and vigorous measure. We shall see how the clergy themselves, who have long battened on the spoils of a fruitful land and a patient laity, will resist this blow.

CAVOUR.

The resignation of Count Cavour, the Premier of the King of Sardinia, is an unmistakeable indication of the present direction of Italian affairs. He is the Italian apostle of constitutional government. To him more than to any living man is the freedom of Sardinia and the happiness and prosperity of her people due. In him the war for the liberation of Italy and the overthrow of Austria had its origin. The untoward result of the contest has probably left him without power to carry out the pledges that he had made. He was doubtless committed to the revolution of the smaller States. The return of the petty Grand Dukes as the oppressors of the people whom he had encouraged in revolt, left him only resignation as the preservative of his honor. His loss to Sardinia is a triumph of Jesuitism, over which the College of Cardinals will go mad with joy. But, the end is not yet.

"Upon What Meat Doeth this our Cæsar Feed."

According to a statement in the Keokuk Gate City, Gen. Augustus Cæsar Dodge, since he commenced feeding at the public crib in 1838, has consumed rations to the amount of $105,200!

New York Importers and Western Buyers.

[From the N. Y. Express, 28th.]

The importations of the week just closed are up to the average, as every importer expected, and no more. The goods, however, meet a dull market, and among country buyers there is an impression that the stocks are excessive, from the bad judgment of importers alone, leaving out of view the real fact of the case, which is in the present inability of the grain growing sections to consume the average of imports. This has been brought about by a general restoration of the crops in Europe, leaving the West with a crop which will not sell for more than half the money growers looked for when they planted it, and when the importers ordered the goods to exchange for it. The grain growing section is destitute of goods, and for the past two years, has been wearing out its old clothes and its old hardware. It has consumed less coffee, tea, sugar, and other goods, from the fact that it was too poor to buy them, either with cash or credit. If the West was simply in the condition of a customer who has been economizing until better times, the importers would have a brighter future, but the grain growers are not only disappointed so far as the price of the present crop, but find themselves unable to pay off the debts of the past.

To hear Western buyers talk, no one would suppose that the consumers of goods had anything to do with the business of importers, and that importers are to be considered fair spoils for sharp buyers. If these loud talking buyers had anything to offer for goods corresponding to the extent of their boasting, the importers and jobbers of New York would be prepared to meet them. Instead of this it is the old story of long credits over again, and the importers and jobbers must go through the old routine of lending their property to the West until such time as the farmer chooses to pay the storekeeper, and he in turn the merchant. Nor does there seem any chance of escape. The competition of trade will enable thousands of buyers with nothing but a clean shirt collar and a clean bill of health at a commercial agency, to obtain a large amount of goods of which the merchant will see the last, when he gets the shipping receipt.

In view of the low prices at which the West expects to buy goods, now is the time to ask buyers how much cash they can pay. Pay day comes with no delay to city merchants, and unless they can get something certain with which to pay for their goods to the importers, they had better keep their stocks and cry over them, and not after them. If as in 1857, the importer has to take care of both sides of his bill book, it will be better to have his debtor in possession of his goods, rather than to know that they are in the hands of farmers, waiting for wheat to rise to $2 a bushel in New York, before they pay. Let the crops be forced to market and be exchanged for goods.

Negro Conspiracy.

The Clarksburgh (Va.) Register, July 15th, says:

"A negro woman belonging to Mr. M. J. Nixon, of this county, gave information on Wednesday last that there was a combination among the negroes of the neighborhood of Shinnston, for the purpose of running off, and defending themselves in so doing. She states that some of the negroes about Clarksburgh are engaged with them; that they are well supplied with fire-arms, &c. Ten of the negroes suspected were arrested on Wednesday, and are now in jail; the negro woman giving the information is also in jail. She further states that these negroes were supplied with poison, which was distributed among them at a convention of them held at Shinnston not long since, and their intention was to poison their masters' families."

LETTER FROM KANSAS.

Progress of the Convention—Politics and Political Aspirants—Report of Committee on Claims.

[Correspondence of the Press and Tribune.]

LEAVENWORTH CITY, Kansas, July 25, 1859.

We have no news of startling interest now. You are furnished with the latest news from the mines by telegraph so promptly on its arrival here that it is of little use to allude to it in a letter. The express coaches still continue to be crowded as they go out, the last one outward bound took eight passengers. The last one in, last Tuesday, brought about $2,500 in gold dust. The news is of the same character as heretofore—a large amount of gold dust there, but no coin to buy it with; several parties are doing well and many others roaming over the mountains, prospecting, and as yet doing no good. I hear of several parties who will start out from here in a few days, after which emigration will cease for this season, except those who go by stage.

The Constitutional Convention at Wyandotte is hammering away smartly, and bids fair to accomplish its task in a few more days. The main features of the Constitution will be that it is free State, of course. It will sanction a general banking law, upon a stock secured basis, similar to the law in Illinois, though it is proposed and probably will be adopted, to limit the securities to United States and Kansas stocks. The reason for this, on the part of Kansas stocks, is that perhaps a million of bonds will have to be issued at once, for the erection of State buildings, penitentiary, &c., and by excluding all other stocks as a basis for banking in the Territory, it will have a tendency to enhance ours in the Eastern market. The ultimate effect, however, may not sustain this argument; but for the present it may help in disposing of Kansas State bonds to good advantage. The Convention make large demands upon "Uncle Sam" for lands for shools, railroads, universities and benevolent institutions, amounting to 4,766,280 acres. Also five per centum of the proceeds of all land sold. Also, all gold, silver, lead, copper, coal and other mines. Also, all swamp lands in said State, for the use of common schools. Also, sections 16 and 36 in every township in said State, for the use of common schools.

The apportionment of Senators and Representatives for the present stands, 26 Senators and 75 Representatives. No organized county in the Territory hereafter, is to be entitled to less than one Representative, the apportionment to be made every five years. At present Leavenworth and Douglas counties are entitled to nine each: the former has three Senators and the latter two.

Quite a spirited contest is going on with reference to the location of the capital of the State. The principal contest is between Lawrence and Topeka. It is thought that the latter will be the point chosen by the Convention, unless the Douglas county folks can, by some turn, obtain the assistance of the Democratic vote, which is not probable.

Politics are again making office seekers fly around considerably. At our next election and after, we have a registry law, which is a great eye-sore to our pro-slavery friends. They cannot afford to keep Irishmen in the Territory three months at a time, at one dollar a day (whisky thrown in) in quantities to carry an election. The Democracy are scouring the country in every direction, drumming up every man they can find, in order to have his name registered. The first important election will be for a Delegate to Congress, and Members of the Territorial Legislature. The Democracy have a host of aspirants for Delegate; most conspicuous among them is ex U. S. Judge Johnson. But two candidates are spoken of on the part of the Republicans—Marcus J. Parrott and M. F. Conway. The former will probably be nominated, which will be equal to an election. The nominating Convention meets one week from next Wednesday, and will settle the question.

The Board of Commissioners appointed to assess the losses of the citizens of the Territory from the 1st day of October, 1856, up to December 1st, 1857, have made the following report, which I extract from the Times of this morning:

Whole number of claims audited	673
Whole amount claimed	$676,[illegible]
Whole amount allowed	412,978
Total value of crops destroyed	37,[illegible]49
Total number of houses destroyed	78
Total number of horses taken	368
Total number of cattle taken	[illegible]
Total amount of property owned by Free State men destroyed	335,779
Total amount of property owned by Pro-Slavery men, destroyed	77,108
Total amount of property destroyed by Pro-Slavery men	318,718
Total amount of property destroyed by Free State men	64,249

The report also states that as far as the Commissioners have been able to astertain, over 200 men were killed in the different engagements.

We are now enjoying a good shower, which was much needed throughout the Territory.

Crops, Etc., in Kansas.

NEMAHA COUNTY, K. T., July 21, 1859.

Editors Press and Tribune:

Seeing reports through your paper of the growing crops in different parts of the country, I take pleasure in giving the prospects in this region. Though corn was planted late on account of continued heavy rains early in the season, I never saw a better prospect than now; corn that is being plowed is from waist to shoulder high. Sod corn, of which a large amount is planted, looks well, considering we have had no rain for more than two weeks. The few fields that were sown in fall wheat have yielded a fine crop of the best quality of grain. I consider the question now settled that this part of Kansas will be a wheat growing country. Oats is of the finest quality. Old corn is plenty at 50 cents per bushel. We shall doubtless make a surplus this year, though immigration is pouring in at a rapid rate. This, I think, speaks well for a country where the first sod was broken not more than three years ago. The people generally are very industrious and enterprising. A colony from Illinois has located in this county. They took a township of land, commenced operations in May last, and have now six or seven hundred acres in sod corn. They are still breaking for wheat, and for cultivation next season. They are a very enterprising people, and will add much to the advancement of this new county. Their plans for an educational system are the most complete I have ever known. Centralia is the name of their town.

Yours truly, O. C. BRUNER.

About Preparing Wheat for Market.

MARENGO, July 25th, 1859.

Editors Press and Tribune:

In your issue of July 22d, under the head of "A Word to Farmers," you say "much of the White Winter Wheat throughout the southern part of the State is 'chessy,' although in every other respect the wheat may be prime." You say coming in this way "it will be graded No. 2, and sell ten to twelve cents per bushel less than it would if cleaned. * * * The Board of Trade have established different grades of wheat, so that the farmer who is careful of his crop will be duly rewarded. Every farmer ought to blow and clean his wheat before taking it to market, and he will find that he will be amply paid for his trouble."

Now let us look into the matter a little and see whether it will pay the farmer "to blow and clean his wheat before taking it to market," when your "Board of Trade" pay him only ten to twelve cents per bushel more, to reward him for his trouble. When in your market White Wheat No. 1 brings $1.00 per bushel, and White Wheat No. 2 (the same as No. 1 only "chessy") 90 cents, I cannot agree with you in saying that "the farmer is amply rewarded for his trouble" in cleaning his wheat. The farmer by blowing the chess out of his No. 2 White Wheat to make it worthy the name of No. 1, frequently blows out more than six pounds of chess, dirt and small wheat, worth just ten cents in your market, besides the labor and trouble of cleaning it, which is no small matter. Your Board of Trade, in order to effect the desired object, must make more difference in price between clean and foul wheat than ten or twelve cents. Should they pay 20 to 25 per cent. more for clean than for foul wheat it would not be long before our farmers would stop sending their wheat to market without cleaning it. Our wheat would then command a better price and bear a better name in the Eastern market. Let your Board of Trade and our farmers unite in raising the standard of Chicago wheat. Such a state of things would be worth millions of dollars to our beloved State.

THE SUNDAY QUESTION.

The True Nature of the Right to Sunday Recreation.

Editors Press and Tribune:

The Sunday question is correctly described by its name. It is a question of and concerning Sunday, and nothing else. It is a question whether amusements, and the facilities for amusements, shall be allowed on Sunday. We must not allow ourselves to be led off from the true point in issue, by arguments that man needs rest one day in seven, for that is not the question; nor by arguments upon the general necessity and benefit of public worship, for that is not the question; nor by arguments upon the immorality of drunkenness, for neither is that the question. These questions may be separately considered in the light of the effect that Sunday has upon them. But we must listen to no arguments which do not connect themselves logically and consistently with Sunday.

It is unnecessary for us to consider the question of the holiness of Sunday on "infidel" grounds; for under the most liberal interpretation of the Scriptures, the claim for a peculiar holiness for that day, and the pretence that it should be spent in religious worship, and in no other way, cannot be supported. The authority of the Sabbatarians is principally found in the Fourth Commandment. Now side by side with the general rule, now universally acknowledged, that the commandments of the Old Testament, other than those which are found in every moral code, are simply the statute law of the ancient Hebrews, and not binding upon us, is this significant fact, that the reason assigned for the observance of the Sabbath day was a special one, and peculiar to the Hebrew people; because He had brought them out of Egypt, "therefore the Lord thy God commanded thee to keep the Sabbath day, (Deut. v. 15); evidently a more appropriate reason than the one assigned in Exodus xx. 11—since the latter we now know not to be true. Again, the Sabbath of the Jews was Saturday, and not Sunday. For this reason, therefore, the Fourth Commandment cannot refer to Sunday. Again, the Jews kept their Sabbath by abstaining from work and indulging in recreation and amusements,—until the latter days of the formalists, whose confusion and extirpation was no small part of the mission of Christ; and we all know what example he set in regard to the Sabbath. The Pharisees denounced him as a Sabbath breaker.

It is easy to show by the course of reasoning above indicated, that the Sabbatarians, in citing the Fourth Commandment to sustain their position in regard to Sunday, are citing an obsolete law, for general and special reasons no longer binding upon us, abrogated by Christ, and by the early Christian Church up to the 16th century, and citing it to sustain them in observing the wrong day in the wrong mode. There is no divine law which renders it incumbent for men to perform any particular class of duties on the first day of the week. Sunday is not a divine institution.

Neither is public worship a divine intitution. Christ nowhere enjoins it. He left such details to others. "Where two or three are gathered together in my name," is Christ's church. He filled his followers with sublime thoughts and directed their souls to the paths of true religion. They themselves, drawn together by common sympathy, by common dangers, by common hopes, instituted public worship. It came about naturally. For some reason or other the first day of the week was selected for their meetings when they were permitted to hold them with any regularity, and that custom has continued to our day throughout Christendom. After their meeting, these simple Christians went to their work, and especially reprobated the habit of "spending the day in idleness." We might know that Christ never inculcated this custom as a Chistian duty, for if he had, it would have met with the fate of all his other commands, such as charity, forbearance, humility, honesty, and the like, and fallen into disuse. But public worship is, like many worse things, a human institution, arising out of the needs of human nature, and it is, too, a good institution, and public worship on Sunday has become, by this time, an indispensable institution. It is, like the right to travel on the highway, the right to lodge at a public inn, the right of petition—a civil right, founded in the common law, appurtenant to the public in general and to every individual. It may be abridged, protected or enlarged by statute. It may be annulled, by common consent, as if the whole world should by and by prefer to worship on Thursday. It is a right of a high, but not of the highest nature, abstractly considered. It is not one of the inalienable rights spoken of in the Declaration of Independence. "The right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience," is one of these inalienable rights, and must be protected at all hazards, to each and every individual, and must not be overridden by the strongest will or the largest majority, and cannot be annulled, abridged or enlarged by common consent or in any other way. It exists in the nature of things. It is a right as sacred as that of existence—the enjoyment of liberty—the acquisition of property; but, like all these rights, it is to subject to regulation, in regard to the mode in which it is exercised. I may raise corn, but not on my neighbor's land; I may breathe the air of heaven, but not on my neighbor's domain, unless he consent; I may travel on the public highway, but I must not take up the whole road; I must make my carriage so small that my neighbor can pass me, for he has as good a right to the road as I; I may lodge at an inn, but I must not occupy an unreasonable amount of room, for my neighbor has also a right to lodge there; it may be more pleasant for me to travel in a carriage with a broad axle, or to take up four or five rooms at an inn, but I have no right to more than I need or can pay for; I may worship God on Sunday by going to church;—it is my right: but my neighbor has also a right to go out into the fields on Sunday, to amuse himself, which is as sacred as mine. Sunday is common property for any and all purposes. I have no right to the whole of it I have no right to stop my neighbor from riding or feasting or dancing on Sunday, nor has he any right to prevent me from worshipping. I have no right to stop the cars which run for his accommodation; he has no right to disturb the church service, which is for mine. If I should stop his cars from running on Sunday, he would have as good a right to smoke his pipe, and chat, and lounge, or even set up a lager beer saloon on the vacant lot next my church. For recreation is also a human institution, founded on the needs of humanity. It is a good, an indispensable institution, and to the poor man Sunday recreation has become indispensably necessary.

Public worship and public recreation then are equal rights. It is difficult to say that either is the more important. If the religion or the morality of the world depended on public worship, the case might be different. But they do not. A law prohibiting recreation would be followed by no less mischievous consequences than a law prohibiting public worship—on Sunday or any other day.

I hope the clergymen who meet on Friday afternoon to consider the Sunday question, will debate this resolution, which I offer for their attention.

Resolved, That the due observance of Sunday as a day of public worship, is conducive to the ends of true morality, and a vital religion, and that the most effective mode of promoting the same, is by earnest and persevering endeavors to disseminate the cardinal truths of Christianity, to the end that the minds of all men being filled with those holy and profound truths, their natural human sympathies may draw them irresistibly together, to spend a convenient and fitting portion of stated days in religious exercises; but it is not the opinion of this meeting that the rational and innocent amusements on any day whatever are incompatible with the duties of Christian men, women or children.

This resolution will have my vote. W.

The Counterfeiters.

[From the Bloomington (Ill.) Pantagraph, July 22.]

In yesterday's issue we gave notice of the arrest, arrival and incarceration of nine persons from Leroy and vicinity, and one—J. J. Farran—from Bloomington, but more recently from Kentucky, upon strong evidence of being over zealous in their efforts to promote the welfare of the country by increasing the amount of its circulating medium. The train from Leroy arrived considerably behind time, our paper was ready for the press, compositors and reliable information scarce, and excitement numerous—so, we were compelled to be brief. We have since been under obligations to Sheriff Pool, of De Witt County, for a few facts in the case, as follows:

Some time since, a young man named Robert Taylor, was placed under Mr. P.'s protection, at Clinton, charged with burglary, larceny and other peculiarities of an eccentric mind. Aware that a large amount of "dead wood" had lodged against him—sufficient to drift him to Alton—the prisoner, in consideration of a renewal of his inalienable rights—life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness—proposed to unbutton his mind and reveal the names of a numerous gang of counterfeiters, and use his influence to effect their capture. This being cautiously acceded to, and warrants issued for the arrest of parties in McLean County, the consequence was a scarcity of harvest hands in the vicinity of Leroy. Some time previous to this descent, however, one Dan Jones, a very high private in the gang, hearing of Taylor's arrest at Clinton, left Leroy, commissioned as a special committee of condolence, to visit him. Upon presenting his credentials to Sheriff Pool, that functionary feigned to demur—not having the necessary documents ready—but told Jones to "call again," when he would try and secure him an audience.

In the meantime, a warrant had been made out, and when Jones found it convenient to "drop 'round'" the Sheriff, under pretence of "feeding his pets, opened the "cage" and Jones "went in." Jones remained inside a long time. Fact is, Jones didn't come out until yesterday morning, when he and Taylor brought Sheriff Pool up to Bloomington, put up at Withers' Hotel, and left the Sheriff to shift for himself. Taylor is now out on parole and less than half pay. If we mistake not, ten of the gang are now in "durance vile," and as quite a number of the warrants issued are not yet receipted, we entertain hopes that our city may yet be indebted to the "rest of the boys" for a slight increase of her census.

J. J. Farran is a distinguished person in many respects, and hails from near Crab Orchard, Ky., where close application to the manufacture of counterfeit money has developed in him many scientific acquirements. He makes a good autograph, not only his own, but also of several bank officers in that State. He is said to be a superior engraver, in which opinion we heartily concur after having examined an "X" of his carving for the "Bank of Ashland," several specimens of which he has left with our business men. His modesty is what got him into trouble; he inserted the imprint of "Tappan, Carpenter & Co." of New York, as engravers, instead of his own. He thinks some of remaining in town until "Court sets."

P. S.—Since writing the above we learn that Marshal Briscoe and Sheriff Withers have just returned with an instalment of two more counterfeiters—names, Baker and Gardner.

BRUTAL AFFAIR IN BROADWAY.

A Southerner shoots a Woman on the Steps of the Brandreth House.

[From the N. Y. Evening Post, 25th.]

A shocking and probably fatal shooting case occurred at the corner of Broadway and Canal street, on Saturday afternoon, about five o'clock. Robert C. Macdonald, a cotton broker from Mobile, Alabama, shot Virginia Stewart, a woman with whom he had lived for several years on terms of intimacy, and by whom he had had two children not now living. Although the victim is alive at the time of this writing, her recovery is considered impossible.

The circumstances which led to this bloody affair are somewhat obscure, owing to contradictory statements. It is certain that for six or eight years the parties were intimate in Mobile; and it is stated, on one side, that Macdonald's treatment, although kind when he was sober, was very violent and abusive when under the influence of intoxicating drinks; that upon several occasions she had him arrested to save herself from his violence; that he promised to reform, but grew worse and that finally she left Mobile and came to New York to get rid of him; that he followed her here, but failing to find her, went to Augusta and afterwards to Boston, but still without success; that he returned to this city on Saturday last, when he accidentally met her in Taylor's saloon with two female friends. She refused to have anything to do with him, and he followed her out of the saloon and up Broadway as far as the corner of Canal street. She there turned to him and told him to keep away, she did not wish to talk to him. Macdonald then drew a revolver, and Virginia retreated into the Brandreth House, calling for help. He followed, and fired as she was in the door, and then attempted to shoot himself, but was prevented by a man who was passing. Two officers came up and arrested him. He raised the weapon as they thought, to fire upon them, and struck him on the head. It is probable, however, that he raised the revolver to shoot himself.

The woman fell insensible, and was carried into a drug store. It was ascertained that the ball entered the forehead, and passed through the skull about two inches over the outer angle of the left eye. She was subsequently sent to the Hospital, and placed in the care of Dr. Quinby.

Macdonald's story differs in some respects from the above, and claims that the woman followed him. He is said to have made the following statement to Alderman Brady on Saturday night:

"I am from Mobile, and have been living with this woman five or six years; I have been quite intimate with her, and she keeps a house of prostitution there; I was so wrapt up in her that I could not shake her off, and I finally quitted Mobile and came to this city for the purpose of getting rid of her; she followed me for the double purpose of meeting me and obtaining girls to bring back with her to Mobile; I have followed the cotton shipping business for several years in Mobile and along the Mississippi river; I met this woman in Taylor's saloon today in company with two other girls; I tried to persuade her to go away with me, but she refused; she had been drinking freely; I have a brother named Macdonald, who has been serving as Colonel with Walker in Nicaragua; I am a relation of Colonel Zachary Taylor; I have been so completely wrapt up in this woman that I have lost all control over myself in consequence of her actions, and could not carry on my business; suffering from the excitement of rum, I carried a pistol and dirk, which I was never in the habit of doing in my sober moments; at Taylor's saloon we had some words; she persisted in refusing to come with me, and when we had got as far as the Brandreth Hotel I shot her."

After Macdonald's arrest he was locked up in the Eighth Ward station-house and searched. A double-bladed eight-inch bowie knife was found on his person, and he was only disarmed after a severe struggle. A letter was found in his pocket, evidently written under excitement, and without date, as follows:

> "My dear John: I am about to commit that will astonish you and have Some Instructions with Mess. Leland & Co. in regard to my Body but have since drawn three Hundred Dol's $300 of the amount, I [illegible] leaving fifteen Hundred Dollars, $1,500 in their hands, which after, deducting my Expenses they will remit to you.
>
> "Affectionately your friend Bob.
>
> "My love to Harry and th Boys.
> ROBERT C. MACDONALD."
>
> "And to you who find my body, have my trunks opened, and you will see a letter addressed to Mess. Simeon Leland & Co., in regard to the disposition of my remains, but Hurried with my Beard on.
>
> "Respectfully yours, ROBERT C. MACDONALD."
>
> "Metropolitan Hotel."
>
> "JOHN W. SMITH, Esq., Mobile, Ala."
> "Present."

So far as Macdonald's statement relates to the woman's motives in coming to this city, it is positively contradicted by her friends who unite in the assertion that his conduct drove her away, and that he followed to induce her to return.

Macdonald was yesterday committed to the City Prison by Justice Connolly, to await the result of the wounds.

Progress of Free Sentiment in the Slave States.

We are in receipt of the first number of a large and well printed Free State paper published at Kansas City, Mo., by N. Thomas Doane, Esq.—the Kansas City Republican. The Kansas City Metropolitan is also opposed to the pro-slavery Democracy; and our readers will remember the announcement made a short time since of the establishment of an emancipation paper at St. Joseph, Mo. From the able salutatory of the Kansas City Republican we extract the following:

> After a three years' residence in this State, and a careful and thorough study of its social and political economy, we labor under the firm conviction that the day has already arrived when, by the peaceful and quiet immigration of free white labor, undisturbed by any party legislation or the manufacture of a heated public sentiment, the slaves of Missouri are being forced to new fields of labor in the more remunerative and congenial cotton-fields of the South, while their places are imperceptibly, but surely being filled with the influx of free white laborers from the North.
>
> The great battle which is to be fought in this State is one in which all free white men should take an active part. It is not, as many suppose, a battle between the slaveholder and the non-slaveholder, but it is a conflict of race—a conflict for supremacy between the white laborer and the enslaved negro. In such a conflict it needs no prophet to foretell the result. Already we have seen a Free State sentiment gradually rise in the chief city of our State—gain strength from day to day, till it overrides all opposition in that quarter—next seen in the capital of our State, winding its sinuous way through the popular mind, like the pulses of the body—sometimes throbbing feebly and almost extinct, then beating strong and powerful—only waiting for the opportunity to show itself and demand recognition, till to-day it encompasses within its strongholds, St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Jefferson City, St. Genevieve, and in fact at most all of the great commercial points within our State limits. Many of those in this State who were formerly ultra Border Ruffians, are to-day conservative in their views, while others formerly conservative, have become free soilers.
> We shall advocate boldly and unflinchingly the policy of making Missouri a free State; believing fully in the principle of "Missouri for white men and white men for Missouri;" and also hope to see her take the proud position to which she is justly entitled, as the Empire State of the West, believing, as we do, that she never can assume that position until she acquires it through the new-born energy infused into the body politic by the strong muscular arm and intelligent voice of the free white laborer.

In the Milford (Delaware) News and Advertiser we find the following record of the progress of free principles in the other extremity of the Union:

> DELAWARE BOYS AND SLAVERY.—We know of nothing that pleases us more than to meet young Delawareans who have left the State in boyhood, and who at this season of the year return to visit their families and friends. Many such are now in our community. Generally they are young men of enterprise, intelligence, and of views enlarged by travel and experience. Whatever may have been their education, prejudices or surroundings at home, they come back to us uncompromising anti slavery men. Says one to us "why don't the people of Delaware abolish slavery, remodel their public school system, abolish capital punishment, invite immigration into the State, and make the State a home for intelligent and enterprising freemen." "It pleases me," says another, grasping our hand, "to find you here advocating measures against a vitiated public sentiment, which the people of Delaware will at some early day comprehend the importance of, and it pleases me much more to find that the people of this section of the State begin to see what a demoralizing and ruinous incubus human slavery is." So speak the boys who have imbibed the noble enthusiasm of the North and West.
>
> The boys at home are also four witnesses. An ignoramus who has spent his life on the street and can talk fluently of a crack dog, or a fast horse of course entertains the sentiments of a jockey and a negro-trader; but find the noble boy in our community who reads, and is familiar with the history of his country and who has the capacity to comprehend the great political questions of the day, and we will show you an anti-slavery boy. We know the boys, and we hear them talk, the nobler sentiments never escape their lips than when they express their disgust and horror of human slavery. We have yet to know the intelligent, well-informed Delaware boy capable of forming an honest opinion, who is not thoroughly anti-slavery in his sentiments. Delaware has much to expect from her boys.

Sickles Determined to keep his Seat.

The Sickles letter is the subject of much remark and gossip to-day. The general opinion here seems to be that if Sickles had any friends left, they ought to have counseled him never to undertake a justification of his conduct in print. A man in his position ought to keep quiet, and not add to his stock of notoriety by penning cards to the newspapers.

It is stated that a call will be issued in the course of a few days, for a public meeting of the people of the Third Congressional District (which Mr. Sickles is elected to represent) with a view of requesting that gentleman to resign his seat.

Whether this movement has its origin in political hostility, or personal dislike, it is impossible positively to say, as there will be no names attached to the call. It is well known, however, that a certain competitor of Sickles at the last election is very anxious to get his seat, and the repudiation meeting in contemplation may be an ingenious device to promote a scheme of private ambition, under cover of a high sense of public honor.

Now, result as this step may, rely upon this, that under no circumstances will Sickles resign. He has said as much within the last twenty-four hours, and what he says in that respect, it is probable he will adhere to.—N. Y. Cor. Phila. Ledger.

Horse Railroads Propelled by Steam Connecting the La Crosse and Lake Shore.

[From the Milwaukee Sentinel.]

MR. EDITOR:—I have seen quite a number of communications in the daily papers for and against horse railroads. I have been informed that a bill to construct horse railroads (to run a train of cars including an engine over) is to be presented to the Common Council. Their object is this: to connect the La Crosse and Lake Shore railroads, and make Milwaukee a way station. Milwaukee has already loaned her credit for the benefit of railroads, until she is bankrupt to-day, and the only roads we have left, that are likely to benefit her, must be so managed as to take away what little benefit they are to her, and give it to Chicago. It Milwaukee allows the Lake Shore or La Crosse to run through the city, that instant, in fact, they become Chicago roads. These trains would probably stop here about five minutes, or long enough to change engines. We have allowed Chicago to take every enterprise away from us as soon as finished, and now that the La Crosse Road is completed, we must immediately turn it over to Chicago, and run it for her benefit, and not say a word against it. We are told that in order for these roads to compete with other roads in carrying freight, we must grant them whatever they ask, no matter if it ruins Milwaukee and everybody in it. Such has been the policy of some of our citizens.

* * * * * * * * *

The time has now come for Milwaukee to act, and not let Chicago take her last drop of blood. You cannot blame Chicago for doing just what Milwaukee should do, but it does look rather queer for the people of Milwaukee to do all they can to benefit Chicago, and kill Milwaukee, as they say, because it is for the interest of railroads, and that railroads cost a great deal of money, and they feel it their duty to throw the interest of Milwaukee aside for the benefit of railroads.

* * * * * * * * *

What we have lost is gone. We have something left, if we will take care of it. Our roads are built and they cannot be taken away from us. They are located well as they are. The people of the Second Ward subscribed liberally to the La Crosse road, with the understanding, that the terminus should remain in that Ward. Now that the railroad has got their money they propose to run the road into Chicago, if they can get it there; and I am informed, but cannot vouch for the truth of it, that the council are committed to give them the right of way through the city, or in other words to grant them a charter. Every man that has an interest in Milwaukee should do everything in his power to prevent being sold out to Chicago. Go to Chicago and you are asked, how are you getting along building our roads. It is a fact, and we cannot get over it; Milwaukee has bankrupt herself for the benefit of Chicago, and it is about time for us to take care of our own interest, and let Chicago take care of herself.

SEMINARY FOR YOUNG LADIES, AT LAKE FOREST.
Rev. Baxter Dickinson, D. D., and Daughters, from Boston, will open a first class seminary for Young Ladies the latter part of September next, at Lake Forest, Ill., the seat of Lind University.
The entire responsibility of instruction will devolve upon the Misses Dickinson, who were educated at the best Eastern Institutions, and have had experience in teaching. The course of study will comprise the various branches solid and ornamental, of an accomplished female education. A limited number of young ladies will be received into the family, and have in all respects, a careful and kind supervision. Letters of inquiry may be addressed to Dr. Dickinson, at Kenosha, Wisconsin. Early application is desirable.
[From Rev. Dr. Kirk, of Boston.]
Understanding that the Misses Dickinson intend opening a school of the first class, I take great pleasure in congratulating the citizens of Chicago and vicinity on the acquisition of such an educational influence. To natural amiableness, genuine piety, and true refinement, the young ladies of this family add all the attainments and accomplishments necessary to conduct a school of the highest character.
Boston, 1859. EDWARD N. KIRK.
[From Rev. Dr. Patterson, of Chicago.]
I have been acquainted with Dr. Dickinson and his family for many years, and knowing the reputation of the Misses Dickinson as ladies of superior culture and accomplishments, and as successful teachers, I feel assured that they will give the fullest satisfaction to the patrons of their Seminary for young ladies. WATER WHEELS.
Vandewater's Recently Improved
Jonval Turbine Water Wheel.
OFFICE 81 SOUTH CLARK STREET,
CHICAGO.
I offer this Improved Turbine Water Wheel to the public with the fullest confidence and assurance of its Superiority Over All Other Wheels,
Without any exception. They are well adapted to (and have been tested in) Mills of all descriptions. They give a very steady and uniform speed, and are well adapted to very high as well as very low heads and falls. They will work well in back water without any material loss of power, and are not troubled with ice, as they are set inside of the fore bay and discharged underneath. It requires small amount of gearing to get up a high speed; costs but little to set up and runs upon a step that needs no oiling, and will last 20 years. This Wheel is capable of yielding a power of from 70 to 85 per cent. of the whole power of the water (according to the degree of finish of wheel) under high heads and falls, and in all cases it is warranted to work up to the power laid down in the table, and to give satisfaction when properly put up and geared.
State, County and Town territories for sale.
For further particulars see Circulars, which can be obtained at the Agent's Office, No. 81 South Clark-st.

You are overrun with a deluge of the vilest compounds in the form of "ALCOHOLIC DRINKS"
That ever emanated from that pest of society, the Liquor Mixer.
They are sold to you as a luxury, or they are dispensed to you as a medicine, and in either case the effect is the same.
There is but one way to escape, and that is to use as a luxury or a medicine, a safe and reliable stimulant, sold under stamp and seal, which renders it certain that it has not been tampered with. Such an art
Charles' London Cordial Gin,
Which is distilled under inspection of the British Government, is deliciously flavored (unlike any other Gin) with some of the most valuable restoratives of the
VEGETABLE KINGDOM,
And is by far the most healthy beverage extant.
The most eminent physicians of Europe and America, not only recommend its use by the hale and hearty, but prescribe it as a medicine where a stimulant is required.
The female sex will find it not only a pleasant

Special Notices.

☞ One of the most pleasing, at the same time most effective, remedies for Dyspepsia, and all other diseases arising from a morbid condition of the Stomach and Liver, is Dr. Hostetter's Bitters. It not only removes the disease from the system, but by giving tone to the organs of digestion, aids them in their functions. All who have tried it acknowledge its excellence and superiority and we therefore commend it to the sufferer. Dr. Hostetter's Bitters as a tonic is too well known to need praise. It is therefore scarcely necessary at this time to do more than direct attention to this preparation, which is certainly unequalled by any before the public, satisfied as we are that its wide-spread reputation must prove sufficient to satisfy all of its excellence as a relief and remedy for all diseases of the stomach.

LOTS FOR SALE AT LAKE FOREST, ILLINOIS.
The lots belonging to LIND UNIVERSITY, and now offered for sale present favorable inducements to persons wishing to enjoy the pleasures of country life within an hours ride of the City of Chicago.
They are located at Lake Forest, on the west bank of Lake Michigan, elevated one hundred feet above the level of the Lake, about twenty-six miles north from Chicago, on both sides of the Chicago and Milwaukee Railroads, abound in mineral and other springs and natural beauties, and in the opinion of our best physicians the advantages for a healthful resort and residence are not to be exceeded by any on the sea shore or in the Western country.
A fine Academy building (the preparatory department of Lind University) has been erected the past season, and is now in successful operation in charge of S. F. Miller, A. M.
A new Passenger Depot, a Store and more than a dozen dwellings have been erected within the past year.
In addition to the regular through trains an accommodation train taking passengers on commutation tickets at half the regular fare, leaves Chicago every evening, and returns every morning, thus affording business men an opportunity to spend the day in the City and be with their families at night.
A good hotel has been opened and in successful operation for more than a year past.
The Lake Forest Association have also a few lots, mostly for farming purposes, lying near the town, containing from three to ten acres each, which will be sold at reasonable prices, and on usual time.
The subscriber has, within the past year, sold over twelve thousand dollars worth of the lands belonging to the University and Association, and proposes to sell a few more lots to persons who wish them for immediate improvement and cultivation.

Fourth of July in Paris—Letters from Lafayette and De Tocqueville.

The Paris correspondent of the New York Express gives the following account of the celebration of the Fourth in Paris:

The party was mainly composed of new arrivals and Americans sojourning only temporarily in Paris; the various cliques of old residents and toadies to the French aristocracy having lived so long abroad as to regard the national anniversary of their original country as too fossil like and obsolete to be noticed by any demonstration in which French marquises, counts and barons cannot be trotted out to advantage. Many of these pious vessels doubtless kept the day as a sort of Good Friday; fasting, praying, (perhaps,) and lamenting the obtuse behavior of the colonies in separating from the mother country; a proceeding which forever debarred several worthy representatives of the New World from now wearing those titles of nobility which they would have so eminently deserved and adorned. However, despite the disadvantage of various American dukes and princes positively and indignantly refusing to stretch their precious legs under the same mahogany with mere citizens of the United States, many of whom had not even been presented to the Emperor, and wouldn't know the Grand Master of the Imperial Shaving-Brush from a side of sole leather, the dinner actually took place, and the guests ate, drank and made merry, pretty much as if the aforesaid dukes and princes had never honored the world by being born into it! I blush to record the fact, but strict veracity compels me to admit that all the speeches were to the exclusive glorification of the Great Republic beyond the seas, the American Eagle and Company; whilst the Grand Master of the Shaving Brush did not come in for a syllable of that graceful eulogy which might have flowed from lips competent to do justice to the inspiring theme, had they been there to speak.

The existing representative of the Lafayette family was invited, and sent a reply,—of which I give you a translation:

SIR. Permit me to thank you for the kind invitation which you have done me the honor to address to me, and to express to you all my gratitude for this fresh mark of the thoughtfulness of Americans for the name of Lafayette, a feeling which is manifested under all circumstances, and is transmitted from generation to generation. I regret deeply that a forced absence from Paris deprives me of the pleasure of accepting your generous invitation and of celebrating with you the anniversary of the Fourth of July; but believe me, absent or present, as a grandson of the brother in-arms of Washington, and as a friend to Liberty, my heart is associated with the celebration of the great Day, so glorious in the past, by the foundation of American Independence, and so glorious in the present by the magnificent spectacle offered to the eyes of the world, in the constantly increasing development of the power and prosperity of a free people.

Pray have the goodness, sir, to express, in my behalf to the Committee and your countrymen, my gratitude and my profound regret that I shall be unable to unite in the solemnity of the Fourth of July, and accept at the same time the assurance of my distinguished consideration.
EDMOND LAFAYETTE.

PARIS, Sunday, July 3d, 1859.

This noble and beautiful letter is worthy the descendant and representative of the "brother-in-arms of Washington;" and the feeling it breathes will be highly appreciated by the great people whose affection for the memory of Lafayette is second only to the reverence for the Father of his Country.

Whilst upon the subject of American festivals in Paris, I cannot refrain from giving you a copy of a note which was shown me this morning, and which has never I believe been published. It is written in English, and is from the accomplished pen of the late M. de Tocqueville, whose recent death and known admiration of our country impart a special interest to this brief reply to an invitation of the Committee, in 1855, to attend the ball given in honor of Washington's Birth-day.

COMPIEGNE, Feb. 19th, 1855.

MY DEAR MR. BECKWITH.—We have a lively sense of the kindness of the Committee, in remembering us, and in sending us invitations to the ball to be given by the Americans on the 22d instant.

If the health of Madame de Tocqueville and the weather had permitted, we would have accepted the invitation with zeal.

Be so good, I pray, as to express to the Committee our regrets and our thanks.

I shall be happy, at all times, to unite in rendering the greatest homage to the memory of your Washington.

There is no grander name in history; and if it were permitted me to choose a place among the great men who have left eternal memorials, I would choose, without hesitation, the place of Washington; and I believe that all who can appreciate moral beauty, and who are capable of becoming enamored of it, would compete for his place.

May it please God to preserve the spirit of that great man, as well as his works!

Accept, I pray you, the expression of my sentiments of high consideration and friendship.
ALEXIS DE TOCQUEVILLE.

The Archbishop of Paris Disciplined by the Empress.

A Paris letter-writer says:

"Something has decidedly happened between the Court and the Archbishop of Paris. It seems that his highness has all along decidedly set his face against the war, and has urged the abandonment of that of displa Te Deum and rejoicing which the Empress loves. So far, indeed, has he reckoned upon his holy character, that in the case of last Sunday he thought it a duty to reason with the fair Regent upon the subject, and demanded an audience at St. Cloud expressly for the purpose. The fair and amiable Regent received the reverend prelate with the ineffable smile so often alluded to, requested him to be seated, and listened without a single objection to his Christian expostulations on the subject of the rejoicing in another's woes all of which the fair Regent took in very good part, smiled even more ineffably still, and, with the assurance that she was not offended at the representation which his Highness had thought proper to make dismissed the audience without promising anything more than an immediate communication with the Emperor upon the matter. The answer was not slow in forthcoming. It said, abruptly, that if Cardinal Morlot made any further objection to officiate at Notre Dame, as he had already done twice before, measures would be taken for the immediate transfer of his person to Vincennes, and that the question might then be tried whether the two great powers of the State were to continue thus at variance. The issue of the message was beheld on Sunday when, with countenance ghastly pale, and fainting beneath the load of braveria with which he was bedecked, the Cardinal Morlot, Archbishop of Paris, joined in thanksgiving, when he would rather have offered up the prayers of penance, for he is likewise of the favored few who know well enough where the next blow is to fall. Here, however, an ineffable smile must have been of some value. It never ceased during the whole ceremony; and, as one of the French chroniclers observes, "lighted up the whole cathedral with its radiance." This slight hitch in the smooth current of ecclesiastical affairs is the real story of the difference between the Archbishop and the Court, and the threat of Vincennes, which you will hear hinted at now and then. It has been reported that the disgrace arose from the Archbishop having subscribed to the fund for the Emperor of Austria, and that the Bishop of Melun had been arrested for conveying the sum; but the real fact is as I have told you.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The frozen well at Brandon, Vt., has attracted crowds of savans to that place this season. Scientific persons in that vicinity ascribe the phenomena to an iceberg, and that originally, or at some remote period in the long past, that part of America was the head of the sea. This hypothesis is sustained by the fact that several years ago, in building a railroad between Clarmont and White River Junction, the terminus of the Sullivan Railroad, the bones of an arctic whale were found on one of the highest points of land. All the land near the well is frozen at a depth of a few feet below the surface. An interesting scientific report on the subject is understood to be forthcoming.

—A young French soldier writes to his mother from Castiglione: "Dear mother, I am yet living and lively; but I am not quite complete. The surgeon of the regiment has cut off one of my legs. I have been used to having the leg by me, and the parting was cruel. Do not weep, dear mother, but rejoice, rather, for I will rejoin you now, not to leave you again. I will always be, now, part of your little card party, thanks to the wooden leg."

—The New Orleans Picayune says that the American surveyors of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, in their explorations on the Pacific Coast discovered the ruins of an ancient city within a few miles of the sea. The surveying party brought back a large number of teracota idols, musical instruments, silver rings, bas relievos, etc., all of which indicate an advanced condition of civilization among the aboriginal people of Mexico.

—Garibaldi is said, in the Petersburgh (Va.) Express, to be a descendant of Mr. John Johnson Jones, who died at his residence in Blandford, about the year 1767. It is a fact well attested by documents, now in the possession of an aged citizen, that a beautiful young daughter of this Mrs. Jones, eloped from Petersburgh about the year 1753, with an Italian tight-rope dancer named Garibaldi, who, having amassed a fortune in this country, returned to his own dear native Italy, where a large family and unalloyed felicity blessed the union between himself and his beautiful young Blandford bride. Mrs. Garibaldi corresponded with her father until the day of the latter's death; and letters subsequently sent over by the children of Mrs. G. leave but little doubt of the fact that the warrior Garibaldi now in Italy, is a direct descendant of the Jones family, so well and favorably known in Blandford during the first half of the past century.

NOVEL SUITS IN QUEBEC.—Fifty-nine suits have been brought at Quebec by Mr. Andrew McCorkell, banker against Mr. William Burns, flour dealer and lessee of the Beauport Mills.

Thirty of the suits are brought on the allegation that the defendant had sold the plaintiff flour, the branded weight of which was greater than the actual contents; and twenty-nine for false tares marked upon the barrels.

The first suit, for packing less than 196 lbs in a barrel, was dismissed by the police magistrate on the ground that the flour was packed more than six months before the information was laid, whereas the suit should have been brought before the expiration of six months from the commission of the offence.

The deficiency was four pounds per barrel, the actual tare eighteen pounds, and the marked tare fourteen pounds.

A Jorum of Punch.

AUSTRIA'S FOUR-LEAVED SHAMROCK.—"Austria," says a journal in her interests, "will deal retribution on the platform of her Quadrilateral. Nous verrons. Entire change of tactics sometimes succeeds, and this is assuredly the very first time Austria has ever tried to deal on the Square.

VERY APPROPRIATE.—We are informed by the Moniteur that Gen. de la Hitte, who has made the new rifled cannon his especial study, is about to join the army of Italy. If a name can carry luck with it, Gen. de la Hitte is clearly "the right man in the right place."

CRUEL JOKE AT A FETE.—Horrid Boy (to his Cousin)—"I say, Rose! Wasn't that Major de Vere who just left you?"
Rose—"Yes!"
Horrid Boy—Ah, then, I think he might as well have told you what a tremendous black smudge you have got on your nose!"
[N. B.—Of course there is no smudge; but there's no looking glass within miles for poor Rose to satisfy herself.]

AN AFTER-THOUGHT.—There is a tradesman in Manchester, where they do not know what rain is, who has brought out a "Metternich Umbrella." Round the covering, which is of watered silk, there is engraved the diplomatist's falsified saying of "After me, the Deluge." It is described as the safest thing going for keeping the wet out.

SOMETHING NEW!!!
MITCHELL'S PATENT
Metallic-Tipped Boot and Shoe.
An improvement has been applied to Boots and Shoes, by which a Great Saving in Expense is made. Every Boot and Shoe Dealer knows that Children will wear out at the toe the best constructed shoe in four to six weeks, and that it has hitherto defied the skill of manufacturers to obviate this difficulty.
THE "METALLIC TIP"
meets and overcomes it. A small piece of copper is neatly fastened to the toe of the Boot or Shoe, affording a complete protection to it, and rendering the efforts of the most inveterate stamper ineffectual to kick or wear it out.
We present this invention with the fullest knowledge of and experience in its Practical Utility. Having now for nearly two years been subjected to the severest tests, it has by its own intrinsic merits, surmounted every objection that could possibly be brought against it. We have [illegible] certificates, which are but a fair average of hundreds of others, will abundantly corroborate. We have no hesitation in saying that the Metallic-Tipped Shoe is destined to entirely supersede, for Children and Youth, the old style; and we consider it a moderate statement, that one pair of the Metallic Tips will outwear two to three pairs of the old style, making a saving of nearly two-thirds in the expense of shoes.
MESSRS. WADSWORTH & WELLS,

BY TELEGRAPH.

Three Days Later from Europe.

ARRIVAL OF THE "EUROPA."

RESIGNATION OF COUNT CAVOUR.

SACKVILLE, N. B., July 27.—The following are the principal items of news by the Europa:

The steamships Saxonia and Kangaroo arrived out on the 13th. The Ocean Queen reached Southampton on the 14th, and the Persia on Saturday, the 16th.

The treaty of peace is fully confirmed, but no further particulars have transpired beyond the fact that the Princes of Tuscany and Modena are to return to their States. The result of the treaty is generally misprinted (?) in England.

The Emperor Napoleon was on his way home. He was expected to reach Paris on the 18th inst., when further details of the treaty will probably be announced. In his address to the army, he says that peace was concluded because the contest was about to assume proportions no longer in keeping with the interests France had in the war.

The Emperor of Austria had left the army and was on his way to Vienna. He had issued an order of the day, in which he says, alluding to the treaty of peace, that he yielded to the unfavorable political situation in which he was placed because his natural allies did not as was expected come to his assistance.

Count Cavour and the Sardinian Cabinet had resigned, and its reported that the reasons for this step were on account of the terms of peace being unsatisfactory. Count Arese has been charged with the formation of a new Cabinet.

LIVERPOOL, July 15th.—Breadstuffs had a declining tendency. There is little inqiry and prices continue weak. Provisions are also very dull. Pork heavy and all qualities have slightly declined.

LONDON, July 15.—The Bank of England has reduced the rate of discount to 2½ per cent. Consols are quoted at 95⅛@95¼.

SECOND DISPATCH.

Letters from Paris note much discontent there condering the terms of peace, though peace itself gave satisfaction. The Paris Siecle objects to Austrian influence still suffered to remain in Italy, and calls for the expulsion of petty Italian Princes who are but confederates of Austria.

Napoleon on his arrival in France would proceed direct to St. Cloud, deferring official entree into Paris till he makes it at the head of the army.

The Emperor and the King of Sardinia entered Turin on the 15th, amidst enthusiastic acclamations of the people.

An Austrian correspondent officially announces the conditions of the treaty of peace thus: Austria and France will support the formation of the Italian confederation. Lombardy as far as the line of the Mincio is to be given up. Mantua, Pescheria and the whole of Venetia to remain Austrian possessions. The Princes of Tuscany and Modena return to their States. A universal amnesty granted.

The Vienna correspondent of the London Times says three applications were made by Napoleon to Austria before she would consent. Overtures were made direct by Napoleon for the purpose of preventing the mediation of neutrals.

The same correspondent says the Pope was burnt in effigy at Milan, and unfriendly feelings existed between Napoleon and Victor Emanuel. The latter had issued a proclamation to the people of Lombardy announcing their annexation to Sardinia, according to his own desire many times expressed, and his determination to ameliorate their political condition. Emanuel entered Milan on the 13th, amidst enthusiastic plaudits of the citizens.

It is rumored the Emperor and Empress of the French would visit Vienna.

It was reported that the French army had commenced a countermarch.

It was thought probable that the dismissal of the Cardinal, Antonelli, would follow.

It was rumored that Garribaldi was about to issue a proclamation, and it was considered doubtful whether he would lay down his arms.

Up to the 11th the formation of the Hungarian legion had proceeded prosperously, 5,000 having joined.

A letter from Rome on the 8th says, the Pope has sent an autograph letter to Napoleon, announcing his determination to demand an armed intervention from the Catholic powers.

ENGLAND.—The House of Commons passed to a second reading the bill abolishing Church rates, by a vote of 263 to 193. Both Houses discussed the Treaty of Peace. In the Commons, Lord Russell in answer to an enquiry, said nothing was known or could be known as to details of the treaty till Napoleon returned to Paris, which would be about the 18th.

Sir James Graham called attention to the formidable French fleets at Cherbourg and Brest, together with gun boats for landing troops. Russell said France had made no extraordinary preparations, therefore England had demanded no explanation.

Orange riots prevailed in various parts of Ireland, also at Paisley—where affairs became serious—knives, firearms, &c., were used—one man was killed and several wounded dangerously.

LATEST.—It was reported at Paris on Friday that great agitation prevailed in Milan, that troubles had arisen in Venetia, that Florence was disturbed, and that the people were very indignant at the Emperor for failing to fulfil his promises.

The statement of the Bank of France shows a decrease in cash of over 11,000,000 francs.

Switzerland has ordered the disbandment of her troops called out during the war.

Prussia has ordered the troops on march to halt.

The papers were mainly engaged in speculations upon the sudden conclusion of peace and its results.

Letters from Paris assert that much discontent prevailed there in regard to the terms of peace and small result of the war, although the peace itself gave general satisfaction. The Siecle, the organ of the French Liberals, is dissatisfied, and says: "France will have everything to begin in a few years, if the minutest Austrian influence is suffered an abode in Italy." It calls for the expulsion of the petty Italian princes—the confederates of Austria.

The Emperor Napoleon had quitted the seat of war and was en route for France.

The interview between the Emperors at Villa Franca is said to have lasted nearly three whole days.

ZUZANA, July 14.—The Augsburg Gazette alleges that the cause of the armistice was the existence of a dangerous malady in the French Army, but to this we can give a formal denial. The sanitary state of the French Army is excellent, and exceeds even the hopes which could be entertained from the heat and fatigue endured.

The King of Sardinia had issued the following proclamation to the people of Lombardy:

Heaven has blessed our arms with the powerful ally, the Emperor Napoleon. We arrived in a few days, after the victory upon victory, at the banks of the Mincio. To-day we come back among you to tell you that Heaven has granted your wishes. An armistice followed the preliminaries of peace. Assure the people of Lombardy of their independence, according to their desire many times expressed; you will henceforth form with an ancient state one single and free family, and take your destiny under my directions. I hope to find in you that concurrence which the chief of a State needs in order to create a new administration. I tell you people of Lombardy to trust in your King. Established on a solid and imperishable basis, he will procure happiness for a new country which Heaven has entrusted to his government. The Emperor of Austria has ordered an immediate cessation of the recruiting commenced two days before the armistice.

A war tax was imposed upon Piedmont, amounting to one-tenth of all the taxes on property, customs, taxes, &c.

It was considered probable that the dismissal of Cardinal Antonelli would result from this state of affairs.

GREAT BRITAIN.—The Duke of Newcastle states that the Government did not intend renewing the licenses by which the Hudson Bay Co. held their North American territories.

A bill would soon be introduced for appointing magistrates throughout the territory, to prevent disputes between the Indians and whites, to establish trading regulations and prevent excesses. The government was not prepared to grant a subsidy for establishment of railways in the territory.

The new telegraph cable between England and Denmark had been successfully laid.

The Mediterranean Co. had ordered a cable to connect Malta and Sicily. It is expected to be laid in November.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH FROM LONDON TO LIVERPOOL.

London, Saturday July 16.—The Daily News' city article of Friday evening says the funds opened to-day with dull appearance, but closed at ⅛ per cent. higher than yesterday. The recent rise has attracted a moderate supply of stock, but bona fide holders have little temptation to sell at a time when 1½ per cent. is the highest rate obtainable from deposit. At the receiving establishments speculative transactions are partly in advance. A disposition being shown to await the announcement of the Chancellor of the Exchequer's Budget.

It is expected that there is nothing whatever in the Austro-French compromise sufficiently reassuring to induce England to scorn reasonable measures of defence.

In the other departments of the stock exchange prices had a drooping tendency. The bank terms attracted a moderate amount of business to that establishment, although first class bills were taken elsewhere at 2½, and in exceptional instances at 2 per cent. Except as regards Frankfort, continental exchanges show an unfavorable tendency.

It is remarked that Sardinia by accepting Lombardy, without the fortresses necessary to defend it, has made herself the vassal of France and that Italy has gained nothing, while the Emperor returns to Paris nominally a conqueror, but in reality a baffled and dishonored man.

The Moniteur publishes a second warning to the Univers, on account of an objectionable political article.

The Paris Bourse closed on the 15th at 68f 60c for money and account, being an advance of a quarter per cent. during the day. They touched nearly 70f after the peace.

NAPLES.—Additional details of the recent partial mutiny of the Swiss troops are received.—A body of troops mutinied in the barracks, killing the Colonel and several officers of the 4th regiment, and afterwards repaired to the Royal palace, but were forced back by the Chasseurs and Hussars on duty to the Camp De Mars where they were surrounded. The Commander-in-Chief of the Swiss called on them to surrender. They replied by a discharge of fire-arms, wounding the general and about twenty privates. Orders were then given to fire on the mutineers, when seventy-five were killed and two hundred and thirty-three were wounded.

ROME.—A Bostonian, at the sack of Perugia, writes to the London Times giving additional details of that brutal affair. He says the American Minister, Mr. Stockton, has demanded redress and indemnification for American citizens, and by his energetic action will doubtless obtain such as is to be had.

EXCITING NEWS FROM THE ISTHMUS.

$2,145,000 in Gold.

Arrival of the California Steamer.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The Moses Taylor has arrived with California mails of the 5th inst. She brings $2,145,000 in gold. Among the principal consignees are Wells, Farga & Co., $378,500; American Exchange Bank, $175,000; A. Belmont, $180,000; E. Kelly & Co., $152,000; W. J. Coleman & Co., $85,000; Duncan, Sherman & Co., $90,000; Freeman & Co., $83,000.

Much excitement had been occasioned on the Isthmus on account of the discovery of large quantities of golden images and coin in the Indian graves, in the Chingan District. Many hundreds had gone thither, to prosecute the search. Already several thousand dollars worth had been received in Panama.

The Moses Taylor left Aspinwall on the 19th inst. A serious disturbance occurred at Aspinwall on the 2d of July, occasioned by a scurrilous article published in the little News, a sheet published at that place, reflecting on some of the Railroad employees. The printing office was attacked by the mob, and the presses and all the printing materials thrown into the sea. During the disturbance the proprietors of the newspaper attempted to defend their office, and several shots were fired upon the assailants, resulting in killing one man and wounding five others. Horatio Lyon, the proprietor of the paper, and his printers, named Field, Levy and Miller, were arrested.

COSTA RICA.—The advices from Costa Rica are to the 8th inst. Nothing of special importance had transpired. The harvest was over. Coffee ruled at 12@13.

SOUTH AMERICA.—The advices from Valparaiso are to the 13th, and from Callao to the 27th of June.

The new French ship Mozambique had been wrecked on the Aramonian coast, on the 15th of May. The captain and sailors and one passenger, had perished. Entire cargo was plundered by the savages.

The accounts from Peru state that the revolutionary movements of Col. Zaballos were still continued.

Castilla has issued a general amnesty to all soldiers and private parties engaged in the revolution, provided they report themselves ready to sustain the authorities by the end of July.

Castilla has determined to declare war against Equador, and proposed leading his forces in person.

Later from Utah.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—A letter received from Dr. Forney, Supt. of Indian affairs in Utah, states that two of the children who were spared from the Mountain Meadows massacre have been detained by the U. S. District Attorney, of the Territory as witnesses against certain white men, who are strongly implicated in the commission of that crime. The other children will arrive at Leavenworth about the 11th of August, where Wm. C. Mitchell, whose two sons and their wives were among the murdered emigrants, will receive and return them to their friends in Arkansas. The initiatory steps for their recovery were taken by Mr. Mix, the former Commissioner, and Mr. Greenwood has zealously consummated that humane purpose.

Majors Whiting and Eastman, Captains Taylor and Campbell, and Lieut. Edwards are on their return to the States on leave of absence.

News by the California Overland Mail.

ST. LOUIS, July 27.—The overland mail, with dates to the 4th, arrived here last night.

The papers report the failure of Messrs. Down & Co., distillers, and Peace & Co., millers.

The steamer Washington was detained at St. Catharines three weeks, and at Coronel, Chili, nearly two months, on account of the revolution and inability to get coal. When the Washington left Valparaiso, the war was about ended. Business was improving. Briton J. Hopper, of Long Branch, N. J., was murdered by the Peons, in Coronel.

A fire at San Francisco destroyed nearly all the buildings on Davis street, between Broadway and Valligo; also the wharf fronting on Davis street. The loss is not stated.

Railroad News.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Nothing has yet been accomplished by the Railroad Companys. The N. Y. Central is requested to advance 3d and 4th class freights—an extent sufficient to deprive that route of business from these classes. The great advantages in the way of water lines enjoyed by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad from Boston and New York enable it to get business at the expense of the other roads—that rates can be advanced seems now impossible—that the N. Y. railroads will take measures to obtain their share of business is quite certain; of New England business they get very little. It is stated that none of the goods of the Boston trade sale passed over the Central.

Horrible Tragedy at Freeport---Four Children Murdered by their Father.

FREEPORT, Ill., July 27.—A German named Arndt, four miles above Cedarville, in this county, killed three of his children outright yesterday afternoon with an axe, and wounded the fourth child so badly that it was just alive this morning. No hopes are entertained of its recovery. The children were aged respectively 10, 8 and 5 years and 6 months. He made no resistance when arrested, and assigned no reason for the murder. He was lodged in jail in this city.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The public lands advertised to be sold in Minnesota from the 1st of October to the 14th, embrace the government alternates within the six-mile limits of the railroad grants, and the northeast portion of that State, consisting of one million and three-quarters acres.

The President contemplates returning to Washington on Wednesday.

The Postmaster-General will visit Kentucky during August.

N. Y. Stock Market.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The stock market upon the announcement of the arrival of the Europa yesterday P. M., assumed a steadier tone, and prices generally on the railway list are ¼@½ per cent better. Since the board the tendency is upward—the foreign news so far as known being regarded as favorable. The closing bids for New York Central were 74½; for Galena 64; for Michigan Central 42.

Thunder Storm in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—There was a severe thunder storm yesterday afternoon. Several unfinished culverts in the northern part of the city were damaged. Many cellars were flooded by water. A flock of 82 sheep, belonging to A. J. Burns, Wayne County, Pa., were killed by lightning while gathered beneath a tree during the storm.

Sailing of the Canada.

The Europa was telegraphed this morning, with Liverpool dates to the 16th. Breadstuffs were reported dull, with a declining tendency. Provisions dull and lower.

The news by the steamer had no effect on the markets to-day. Wheat was very firmly held, and for spring grades an advance of 4c was established. Winter wheat was more active, but prices remain unaltered. The transactions in all grades amounted to about 24,000 bushels, at $1 for new No. 1 White on track; 90@95c for fair to choice new No. 1 Red on track; and 54@58c for Standard and Spring in store—the market closing buoyant. The firmness in wheat was sustained throughout the day—more especially after the New York dispatches were received showing an advance in that market. The Flour market was quiet, with, however, a better inquiry for choice grades, which are scarce. Sales of White Winter were made at $5.50, low grade Spring Extra at $2.50, and Rye Flour at $4.50. The light receipts of Corn this morning, with a good speculative and shipping inquiry, caused an additional buoyancy in that market not very agreable to "short sellers." At the opening there was a good demand for present delivery at 58c for No. 1 in store, and notwithstanding the dull feeling telegraphed from New York, the market kept on improving till it reached 65c—showing an advance of 8c per bushel since yesterday. About 75,000 bu of all kinds changed hands—nearly half of which was for future delivery—at 57@65c for No. 1 in store, and 56c for No. 2 in store—the market closing buoyant and excited. A car load of new oats was sold to-day—the first of the season—at 30c in bags. Rye, 51@53c delivered—the latter for a very choice lot of new crop. Provisions inactive, with, however, a good demand for Bacon Hams and Shoulders. Tallow firm at 10½c. Highwines firmer but inactive. Hides, quiet and not quite so firm. The peace news has caused an additional firmness in the Wool market, which, however, is inactive because of light offerings. A lot of three-quarter blood was sold to-day at 42c. New Potatoes very scarce.

T. W. ALEXANDER.—The death of this gentleman, for many years a member of Board of Trade, was announced on 'Change, this morning. After the announcement, Ira Y. Munn, Esq., offered resolutions of condolence to the family and friends of the deceased, which were passed unanimously by the Board.

STOCK OF FLOUR IN MONTREAL.—The stock of flour at present in Montreal is estimated at 50,000 barrels. Very little wheat or corn.

MILWAUKEE—July 26—Receipts, 76 bbls flour; 1515 bu wheat; 290 bu corn. Shipments, 13,140 bu oats. A small lot of No. 1 Spring sold at 56c. Rye, 50c.

CINCINNATI—July 26—Receipts, 814 bbls flour; 1536 bu corn; 8167 bu wheat; 180 bu oats. The Commercial reports Flour firm. Wheat is steady at $1.05@1.08 for red, with a less distinction as to white, which barely commands $1.10@1.12½. Corn is very firm at 80@85c. Accounts from the country give discouraging prospects for the growing crop. To a great extent they are doubtless well founded, and unless copious rains are had very soon, serious damage may reasonably be expected. Rye is not in demand to any great extent, but holders are firm at 70@75c per bushel. Oats were somewhat more brisk to-day, but the feeling is about as it has been throughout the week—an absence of anything but a local demand. Whisky steady at 24c. 200 bbls Mess Pork at $15.50.

BOSTON, July 25.—Receipts, 1,828 bbls flour; no corn; 625 bu oats; 850 bu rye. Flour quiet and nominal. Corn dull at 90@92c for mixed Western.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Receipts, 5,740 bbls flour; 14,056 bu wheat; 25,090 bu corn; 8,760 bu oats.

GRAIN AFLOAT FOR OSWEGO.—On the 25th inst., according to the Oswego Times, there was afloat on the lake for that port, 94,527 bu corn, and 21,900 bu wheat. The cor is all from Chicago.

TOLEDO, July 26.—Receipts, 1,190 bu wheat; 767 bbls flour. The Blade says:

No change to note since our last report—operations restricted by limited stocks. The only sales we have to note are of wheat, 800 bu red at 95c, and 1,000 bu do p. n. t.; 350 and 120 bu new white at $1. These may be regarded as about the standard of value, though subject to depression by large receipts, or to advance by short supplies.

GENESSEE WHEAT.—An Albany paper shows the dates, since 1848, when the first lot of new Genesee Wheat were brought into that market. They are as follows:

1848—August	11	$1.18	₩ bushel.
1849 ..	2	1.18@1.33	..
1850 ..	2	1.30	..
1851 ..	8	1.06	..

1854 ..	7	2.30	..
1855 ..	30	1.89	..

1857 ..	19	1.62½	..

CLEVELAND, July 26—Receipts last week, 10,218 bu wheat; 1,408 bbls flour. New White Wheat, $1.10@1.14. Corn, 80@82c.

THE WHEAT CROP OF OHIO.—The Maritta (Ohio) Intelligencer contains the following:

Mr. Klippart has, since the frost, visited nearly all those wheat-growing counties supposed to be most injured by it, and his opinion is that the aggregate loss by the frost will not exceed the product of the six best wheat-growing counties in the State—say three and a half million of bushels. The crop of 1857—the last of which tables have been made up, amounted to 25,397,614 bushels, and the number of bushels sown was 1,823,147. During the present year there are at least two millions of acres sown; the product on each acre escaping the frost, being acknowledged on all hands to be at least 30 per cent above that of 1857. After deducting the loss by frost, and adding the increased per centage of yield and of acres sown, the aggregate of the present crop will be at least five millions of bushels more than that of 1857, or say, some three millions more than was ever before raised in the State.

LARGE SALE OF WOOL.—On the 5th of August, 500,000 lbs. choice Ohio Fleece will be sold under the hammer at Cleveland by Goodale & Co.

Albany Lumber Market—July 23.

[From the Albany Evening Statesman.]

With ample receipts and light sales during the past week, we have an increased stock of lumber on hand, and a good assortment. Prices remain stationary, without any disposition to reduce them; on the contrary, with any kind of active fall demand, an advance on some descriptions may be counted upon. Orders continue to be received for shipment to Australia, and this week one or two vessels are loading for South America. The prospects of the timber trade in Great Britain have also improved, owing to the low rate of interest, and an easy money market here will no doubt be attended with similar results. We understand that an extensive yard has lately been started at New York, with the view of selling at Albany prices, making the difference of freight only. The parties are from Buffalo, and are controlling large quantities of lumber that used to be consigned to parties here. How far the establishment will prove "a success" will in a short time be revealed; in the meantime the receipts and business at this point are interfered with by this operation. Quotations are unchanged.
